NAZIS SCORE SECOND VICTORY: SWEDEN'S PERIL GROWS GRAVER

JURY INDICTS IN ROBBERY, ARSON CASES

Pennsylvania Youths Named In Schmutzler Slugging, Farmer Charged.

MAKE PLEAS FRIDAY

15 True Bills Filed Against 14 Persons After Inquiry Lasting Two Days.

The Richland county grand jury today had returned 15 indictments against 14 persons, including three Pennsylvania youths accused of slugging and robbing Philip Schmutzler, Mansfield cafe operator.

Also indicted was John W. McGugin, Monroe township farmer accused of setting fire to four barns to collect $13,000 in insurance, and two former Indiana State prison inmates captured a week ago after a gun battle with a state highway patrolman and a deputy sheriff.

In Session Two Days.

The jury was in session two days. Three indictments were held secret and the jurors refused to indict in only one case.

Common Pleas Judge C. H. Huston set 9 a. m. Friday for arraignment of those indicted. Most of them are in county jail.

Indicted for armed robbery in the Schmutzler case were Vincent Carbeau and William Justine, both 28, and Rocco Cusato, 24, all of Ellwood City, Pa. They were arrested in the Pennsylvania city three days after the robbery here and all except $20 of the $1,240 taken from Schmutzler was recovered. Carbeau is a nephew of Schmutzler by marriage.

Ray Taylor, 32, of Niles, Mich., and Stephen Janas, 28, of Burnham, Ill., former Indiana State prison inmates, were indicted on charges of shooting with intent to kill. The pair was captured last Thursday night by State Patrolman W. C. Smith and Deputy Sheriff J. R. Hetler after a 20-mile chase over county roads north and west of the city. Sev-

Girl Absolved of Blame In Family Murders By Court

LOS ANGELES—(INS)—Absolved of all blame for her part in the mass slaying of her two sisters, her brother and the suicide of her mother, Chloe Davis, 11-year-old girl, was in custody of her father today but still a ward of the juvenile court.

In a dramatic hearing, Superior Judge W. Turney Fox ruled he believed it best for Chloe to live with her father, Barton Davis, but remain a ward of the court in order that further clinical and psychiatric treatment be available for her.

On the morning of April 4 Chloe's mother, Mrs. Lolita Davis, 36, bludgeoned to death Daphne Davis, 10; Deborah, 7, and Mark 3. She then slashed her wrists and set fire to her night clothes in the presence of Chloe. She ordered Chloe, according to the child's admission, to beat her over the head with a hammer until she was dead.

Psychiatrists told Judge Fox that while the mother was murderously insane, Chloe was normal in every respect.

DRIVERS STRIKE

Police Estimates 4,000 Idle In Taxicab Tie-Up.

NEW YORK — (UP) — Police estimated today that two-thirds of the 6,000 taxicab drivers and garage workers employed by the National Transportation Company, Inc., and the Terminal System, Inc., the two largest operators in the city, had quit work in response to a strike call of the Transport Workers union (CIO).

HID HER MONEY

After 18 Years Woman Finds Hiding Place of $25.

DENVER—For 18 years Mrs. Warrel L. Potter tried to remember where she hid $25.

While cleaning her bathroom she came across an old purse behind the tub. The $25 was in it.

500 Set to Start 21st Fund Drive

Workers Begin Monday on Task of Raising $57,500 Goal.

The stage was set today for the opening of the 21st annual Community Fund campaign Monday morning when about 500 workers will set out to raise $57,500 for the maintenance of Mansfield's nine welfare and character building agencies for another year.

Clyde K. Smaltz, general chairman of the campaign, said today that more than 5,000 cards are in the hands of Fund workers and that many contacts have already been made.

First report meeting will be held Tuesday noon at the Evergreens cafeteria when majors will report the result of the first day's solicitation. The meeting is open to all workers in the campaign.

The city has been well "plastered" with literature, signs, and banners to remind citizens, that the time is at hand to again invest in the youth of the city. Two weeks ago 10,000 booklets on the Community Fund agencies were distributed from door to door by the Boy Scouts.

Distribute Hand Bills.

This week 5,000 hand bills will be distributed in the downtown section and to industrial and business concerns. The handbills will carry a likeness of the cartoon which appeared in the News-Journal last Sunday. The cartoon represents two phases of present day thinking: one a soldier firing a gun in a trench and the caption: "Over There It's Let's Hate Each Other." The other picture shows an adult leading a child and the caption: "Over Here It's 'Lets Help Each Other.'"

Smaltz will speak tonight before a group of department heads of the Humphryes Manufacturing company, giving them some facts on the Fund and its operations.

This year's budget is $500 under the amount subscribed last year when Mansfielders pledged $58,000.

NAMES BARNES

Secretary of State Appoints Him to Election Board.

T. R. Barnes, Mansfield, was appointed to the Richland county election board today by Secretary of State George M. Neffner on the recommendation of the county Republican executive committee.

Barnes, veteran G. O. P. leader in the city and treasurer of the county Republican executive committee for a number of years, will succeed William M. Ferguson, Mansfield, who resigned last week to take a job in the city waterworks department.

Barnes will be one of the two Republican members of the board. The other is George Williams of Shelby. George C. Balliet, Mansfield, and F. L. Bricker, are the Democratic members.

DUBLIN CASTLE MINE EXPLODED

Irish Republicans Believed To Have Switched Terror Scene.

DUBLIN—(UP)—A powerful land mine was exploded at 5 a. m. today in the lower yard of historic Dublin castle, in the heart of the city. The explosion was so great that it seemed to shake the city.

It was believed that operatives of the Irish Republican army transferring their terrorist activities from England and Ulster to Ireland proper, had planted the mine last night.

The mine seemed to have exploded in an alcove adjoining the special detective branch of the government.

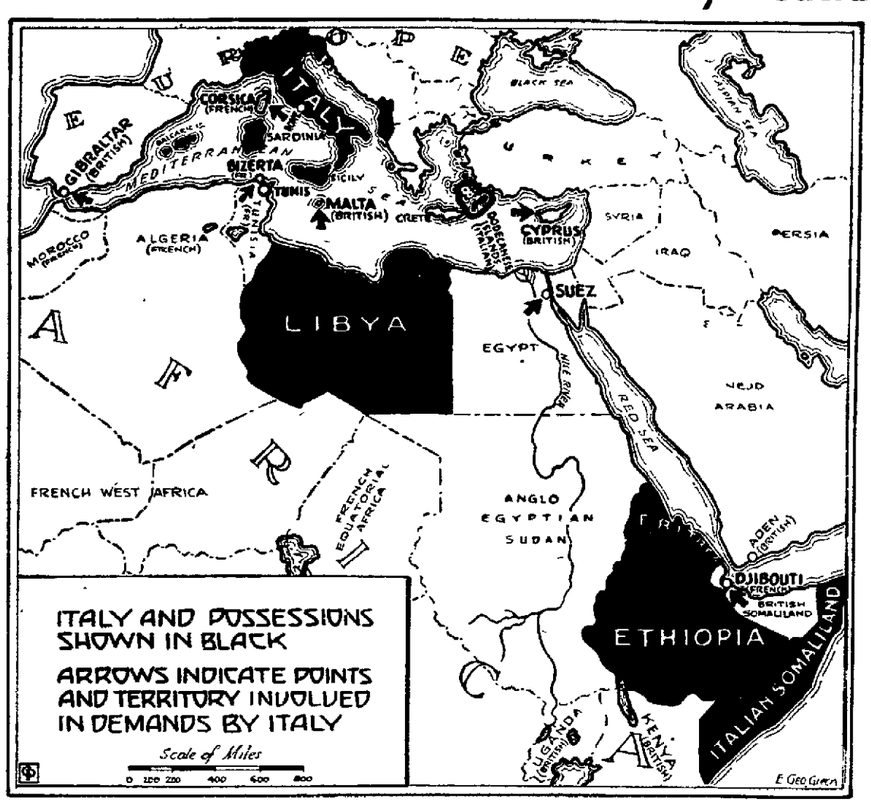
5 DIE IN FIRE

Father and Four Children Burn To Death at Flint, Mich.

FLINT, Mich. —(INS)— A father and his four children were burned to death today and the mother was critically burned when fire swept through their frame farm house after a can of kerosene exploded as the father attempted to start a stove fire.

The dear are: Victor Anderson, 42; Joyce, 11; Victor, jr., 9; Paul, 7, and Ruth, 2. The mother Mrs. Emma Anderson, 41, is in a critical condition in Hurley hospital.

Here's What Mussolini Wants to Stay Neutral



This map shows the concessions it is reported Premier Benito Mussolini has demanded of the Allies as a price for Italian neutrality. Among the demands are (1) moderation of British Mediterraneon blockade tactics, (2) demilitarization of Malta, Corsica and Bizerta, (3) possible similar disarmament of Suez, Cyprus and Gibraltar, (4) accession to previous Italian demands in regard to Djibouti, Tunisia and Suez.

LISTS CLEAN-UP WEEK SCHEDULE

Crafton Designates Days For Collection of Rubbish In City's 6 Wards.

Mansfield's accumulation of rubbish that has gathered in basements and back yards will head for a one-way trip to the city dump when the city's annual "free-lifting" campaign gets under way in two weeks.

Sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and the Junior Association of Commerce, the annual fire prevention-clean up week will be conducted from May 5 to May 12.

Announcing the schedule of pick-ups to be made by city trucks, Service-Safety Director C. M. Crafton, today urged all property owners to co-operate in the spring campaign advocating a "clean-up, paint-up, fix-up and plant-up program" for their properties.

Crafton said a crew of city workmen and four trucks on Monday,

STORK ARRIVES AFTER DETOURS

Ride To Hospital Filled With Mishaps For This Mother.

COATESVILLE, Pa. — A borrowed car broke down as William M. McComsey, jr., was speeding his wife—an expectant mother—to a hospital at West Chester.

The couple caught a ride with a motorist who was heading for Coatesville, ten miles in the opposite direction.

On the outskirts of the town, the car caught fire. Undaunted, McComsey called a taxi. They arrived at the hospital just before the baby was born.

Bromfield Pictures 100-Year War With U. S. Drawn Into It

A gloomy picture of another Hundred Years war engulfing the world and destroying its culture and beauty was painted last night by Louis Bromfield, Mansfield author, who addressed a group of college editors at the 14th Ohio College Newspaper Association convention at Kent, O.

Bromfield, himself a veteran of the World war and a former newspaper man, talked on journalism and its future, but took time out to touch on the present conflict in Europe.

He expressed the opinion that 1914 saw the beginning of a new Hundred Years war, similar in duration and destructiveness to the Hundred Years war which involved most of Europe in the 14th and 15th centuries.

"History," Bromfield said, "will not regard the armistice of 1918 as the beginning of peace, but as marking a lull in a world war."

He said America would succeed in keeping out of the conflict for perhaps five or ten years, but that eventually it would be involved. Like the other Hundred Years war, there will be wars within the war, with years of fighting, with occasional lulls and then resumptions, just as Europe has resumed its war after 21 years of peace, Bromfield predicted.

"The war will destroy all of the beauty and culture of Europe of the past and present," he told his audience. "We will never again in our times see the Europe that we have known and loved." He praised the French form of democracy and French culture.

Bromfield, a student of international affairs and of the history of European nations, lived in France for 12 years before returning to his native Richland county a year ago.

Tax Total Hits Peak

Up nearly 4 per cent from last year, Richland county real estate tax revenue today totaled $664,233, giving the county its best collection since 1934. Receipts amounted to $694,000 for the first half of that year.

A part of the $25,000 increase this year represented payments of old delinquent taxes, county officials said.

Personal tax payments showed a gain too, climbing to $112,836, an increase of about $7,000 over the first half payments in 1939.

CREST PASSED

Ohio River Starts Slow Return to Normal Levels.

CINCINNATI — (AP) — The crest of another one of the Ohio river's spring floods rolled by here slowly today while weather bureau officials predicted the big stream would return within its banks by Sunday.

The peak stage reached here was a fraction of an inch over 60 feet, or a little more than eight feet above flood levels. W. B. Schlomer, acting meteorologist, said the river would drop a foot by tomorrow morning and two more by Saturday night. After that time the fall will be more rapid.

Mrs. Amelia McClure, chairman of the staff executive committee, reported that the Red Cross chapter here had moved 121 families and given aid of some kind to 263 persons.

In northern Kentucky 400 families were evacuated and three schools closed.

ORDERS BOWMAN BRIDGE OPENED

County Engineer Says Traffic to Be Allowed Over $31,000 Structure Tonight.

The new $31,000 bridge over Touby's run on Bowman street will be opened to two-way traffic this evening although it may not be completed for several months, County Engineer Howard C. Sword said today.

The bridge has been closed since last November and traffic was re-routed over Mulberry street. A load limit of five tons will be in force for the new structure until the city completes the paving over it.

State highway department's unofficial offer to pay one-third of the cost of a new bridge over the same stream on North Main street met with a rebuff from the engineer.

Sword learned from Mayor William J. Locke that the state would pay a third of the cost of the $18,000 proposed North Main structure, but he said that offer would be "out of the question this year" unless the city can contribute a third.

Mayor Locke said the city would be unable to pay anything toward the project this year and said it was doubtful if it could finish its part of the Bowman street bridge before next fall.

Sword asserted that the county will be willing to take care of a third of the North Main street bridge expense, but anything beyond that would be too much to handle in view of the county's extensive WPA road program.

OPPOSE TAYLOR VATICAN POST

Methodist Bishops Criticize Appointment to Rome.

ATLANTIC CITY —(UP)— Bishops of the Methodist church today registered opposition to establishment of diplomatic relations between the United States and the Vatican.

The bishops praised President Roosevelt's efforts in behalf of peace but criticized the appointment of Myron C. Taylor as his personal representative at the Holy See.

The bishops' views were contained in the address of the council of bishops read before the first general conference of the Methodist church by Bishop Francis J. McConnell of New York.

Carnegie-Illinois Corp. Recalls Steel Price Cut May 1.

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—The Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation today notified customers it is cancelling on May 1, a recent $4 a ton reduction on rolled products—used principally by the automotives—and that all other prices would continue through the second and third quarters of 1940.

NEW REPORTS TELL OF NAZI TROOP MOVES

French Sources Continue to Warn of Forces Leaving Ports in Baltic.

'DECISION' DEMANDED

Stockholm Starts Recruiting Men to Combat Possible Parachute Menace.

(By International News Service)

PARIS—While the entire French press warned that a "Swedish crisis is near," a spokesman for the war ministry announced today that additional German military units have departed from reich Baltic ports for Norway.

"Sweden lies along the route," the spokesman added ominously, recalling previous French contentions that the Germans might try to enter Norway through Swedish territory.

(Editor's note: Sweden has refused to agree to passage of reich forces across its territory. Also, an authoritative source in Berlin stated that the hour for Sweden's "decision" was near, apparently meaning whether Sweden would decide to join the reich.)

The Paris newspapers Populaire and Petit Parisien reported that several Nazi divisions from East Prussia embarked from Memel, and Genevieve Tabouis, well known French commentator, stated five German divisions had been concentrated at Rostock, Warnemunde, Stettin, Koenigsberg and Memel.

The war office spokesman estimated Germany has a maximum of four divisions in Norway, but said these are being reinforced daily.

The spokesman said that transportation of Germans to the Levanger area, where they counter-

BRIDE KILLED

Holmes County Girl Dies In Crash; 2 Others Injured.

MILLERSBURG — Mrs. Eloise Hoffstatter Jones, 21, wife of LaRue Jones of Glenmont, near here, was killed instantly last night when an automobile in which she was riding, plunged over a ten-foot embankment.

Mrs. Jones, a bride of eight months, was returning to Glenmont with her mother-in-law, Mrs. Victoria Jones, and a nephew, Alvin Mullett, 26, when the car missed the bridge over Military creek and plunged into the creek.

Mrs. Jones and Mullett are in Millersburg hospital today, the former in a serious condition with a skull fracture, broken arms and ribs, and the latter suffering from a broken jaw and head wounds.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Jones is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hoffstatter; two brothers, George and Ross; and two sisters, Hazel and Mrs. Leah Gray, all of Glenmont. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday at the Glenmont Church of Christ.

Allies Repulsed At Lillehammer; Rail Town Falls

Hard-Hitting German Troops Defeat British In South, Push Way on To Key Town of Roeros, Seeking Contact With Northern Army.

BULLETIN

LONDON—(INS)—British troops have regained positions lost to the Germans in the Steinkjer area, the London Evening Standard reported from Stockholm today. There were no details.

BULLETIN

LONDON—(INS)—The Belgian cabinet headed by Premier Hubert Pierlot resigned today, according to a Reuter dispatch from Brussels. The reason was not given.

(By International News Service)

Britain admitted defeat on two vital fronts in Norway for the first time today. At the same time the Germans claimed slashing new gains pounded out the Allies on land, in the air and off the Norwegian coasts.

A British war communique not only conceded capture of the railroad town of Steinkjer by the Germans, but also revealed that Anglo-Norwegian forces near Lillehammer were pushed into retreat by the hard-hitting enemy. The Nazis also were reported to have taken the railroad town of Roeros.

Besides reporting steady advances north of Oslo and in the vicinity of Trondheim, the Germans issued a lengthy list of new successes against the British fleet and the Royal Air Force.

These included the destruction of two submarines in the Skagerrak, scoring a direct bomb hit on a British cruiser and the shooting down of five British planes. Two German aircraft were listed as missing.

A new naval bombardment of Narvik was announced in Berlin, but as yet there seemed to be no British disposition to land troops at the northern Norwegian port.

Stockholm dispatches continued to confirm Nazi claims of land victories, adding that the Germans swept through the Oesterdalen valley and seized the town of Roeros late today.

A dispatch to the Stockholm newspaper Allehanda disclosed that this latest Nazi coup was made possible by fast forced "marches" by troops aboard powerful armored cars.

Hundreds of Norwegian refugees from the Roeros area reached Fjaellnaes on the Swedish frontier, together with six Norwegian ambulances carrying nearly 100

INSIDE: Nazi Troops Taken From Westwall For Invasion

(UP Staff Correspondent)
By FRANCIS McEACHEN

KORNSJOE, Norway—Germany withdrew troops from the western front for the invasion of Norway, and some troops waited in ships four days off the Norwegian coast for orders to land, a German officer told me today.

The German officer and I became friendly over cigarets and beer.

I asked him whether he knew where he was going when he left Germany.

"Good soldiers never ask questions: they always obey commands," he said. "This was no exception. I was called from the west wall and ordered to march my men out at night. We went to the nearest harbor in the greatest secrecy. After sailing for two days we stopped at a fjord we did not recognize, but assumed to be somewhere off Norway or Sweden. We had no idea at the start of our exact destination."

Then explaining the German reason for the invasion, the officer said:

"We beat the Allies here by a matter of hours, for our leader knew of their preparations some time ago and many of our men were in holds of steamers for

LONDON: Britain Guarding Against 'Fifth Column' Moves

(By Associated Press)

LONDON—Sir John Anderson, minister of home security, told the house of commons today that he was "carefully watching the activities of certain small groups of people of whom some appear to be deliberately anxious to hinder the war effort."

Sir John's statement followed indignant informal discussion by members of parliament and the public of alleged "fifth column" activities on the home front which included demands for suppression of the British Communist party.

Sir John, who also is home secretary, declared to a cheering house that the "national resolution that the war must be waged with all our strength is such that these activities have had so far little practical effect."

Sir John had a private talk with a group of M. P.'s last night on the "fifth column" problem.

Meanwhile, with Allied forces engaged in a crucial contest with the German invaders of Norway and with the war once again brought to the British Isles by a new German bombing smash in the region of Scapa Flow, naval anchorage in the Orkneys, there rose a cry in commons that the $10,000,000,000 war budget now under debate is not bold enough.

There were assertions that even greater sacrifices must be demanded of British taxpayers.

The noted economist and government adviser, J. M. Keynes, backed up critics of the budget with a letter to the Times declaring, in part, "I marvel how little the country understands . . . what sacrifices victory will require."

He said the government would need half of the nation's income to win the war.

WORK ON WEST 4TH JOB STIRS SPECULATION

How Long Will It Take? Well, State, WPA Answer These Questions Here.

"Isn't it a mess? It'll be a big improvement but I suppose they'll have the street torn up all summer."

How many times have you heard that statement about town since the WPA started the construction of water lines on West Fourth street several weeks ago?

The construction, which has tied traffic in the business district into a knot due to closed intersections at North Main street, North Walnut street and Mulberry street, is being done preliminary to the resurfacing of the roadway this summer by the state highway department.

Already Mansfielders have begun to comment on progress being made and no little chatter has been heard by merchants in the district over the probable length of time it will take to complete the project, especially that section from North Diamond to Mulberry street.

So city, state and WPA officials today were asked these same questions and what could be expected.

From WPA supervisors it was learned that a double shift of workers has been on the job for the past month but work has been delayed due to rainy weather and the fact that progress has been slow between Main and Mulberry streets because workmen, lowering the trench in which a new main is being laid have had to cut through solid rock the entire distance of the two blocks with air hammers.

Speed Up Trenching.

They expressed belief that the trenching operations would be speeded up considerably during the next week and workmen progressed west on the street past Mulberry today.

The rock formation is already begun to disappear and it was explained that work will reach Bowman street within another two weeks.

While North Mulberry street was completely shut off today work was being rushed on the North Walnut street intersection to open it to two-way traffic.

WPA officials said they were waiting for a water pipe connection before the main connection could be made and the backfilling at the crossing could be completed.

The second step in the operations will be done by city workmen who will remove the old street car rails when the state highway department is ready to lay the new pavement. The old rails are being salvaged by the city.

* * *

Here's All About Paving.

No, the street won't be torn up all summer long.

Resurfacing work will start about May 15, state highway engineers have said. It will be started at Diamond street and proceed westward but as the work progresses, new pavement will be opened to traffic just as soon as the paving materials are placed and allowed a few days to properly "season."

The $100,000 project, financed on a 50-50 basis by the city and property owners and the state, will include a brick center driving strip with concrete parking lanes on either side. It will be paved from Diamond street to a point just east of Ausdale avenue.

The work is to be done by contract under the supervision of the state highway department with the successful bidder employing WPA for the labor. The state has not yet called for bids on the job.

SMILES, CHUCKLES AND YAWNS RELIEVE HIGH COURT DECORUM

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — The supreme court—still one of the most dignified institutions on earth—has introduced a few new touches to its carefully staged sessions.

Sedately draped in their silk robes, the nine justices make their impressive entrance at high noon as usual, but the funereal solemnity has lessened.

In fact, if you listen attentively you can detect a chuckle or two before the white draperies behind the bench part and the jurists march in to their chairs.

All of them nod and smile warmly as they greet friends in the court room. A couple — Justices Murphy and Douglas—look as if they're going to wave.

Once seated, they are far more informal than before.

Justice Frankfurter is a swinger. During the lengthy decisions he whirls his low-backed chair from side to side stirring up a miniature breeze about Justice Black.

Justice Douglas is a tie-tugger.

Justice Black is a rocker.

Justice Roberts and Justice Reed look as if they have the best time. Throughout a two-hour session they'll break into smiles and chuckles four or five times.

Justice Murphy sits on the edge of his chair at such a precarious angle that an elderly attache of the court is constantly eyeing him.

And Justice Murphy actually yawned on the bench Mondayq.

Give but little advice and applaud frequently if you would be popular.

TELLS WOMEN TO READ BIBLE

Judge Recommends Sermon on the Mount to Quarrelers.

TULSA, Okla. —(AP)— Charged and counter-charged with disorderly conduct as the result of a back-fence row, two Tulsa housewives were sentenced by Judge J. J. Hatch to read the Sermon on the Mount.

"I am continuing the case pending your good behavior," he told them. "Go home and get your Bibles."

The charges included these: That one of the women swore in the presence of her small boy. That one of them cut a hole in her hedge, the better to spy upon her neighbors. That one woman talked to herself so loudly, making disparaging remarks about her neighbors, that all the neighbors heard.

MAPS DEFINITE STEPS ON HOUSE NUMBERING PLAN

Street Committee Chairman to Foster Legislation Which Compels Corrections.

Definite action toward correction of Mansfield's house numbering system was being formulated today.

George Berg, chairman of council's street committee said the three-man group was studying a plan to amend the city's present house numbering ordinance so as to making the posting of correct house numbers compulsory.

City Solicitor Marion D. Ward will be requested to draft the legislation Berg said which he will introduce at council's May 7 meeting.

According to Berg, the amendment will require property owners to place correct numbers on their houses in accordance with recommendations made in a survey taken a year ago. At that time, the survey revealed approximately 5,000 discrepancies in the marking system.

It will limit to 90 days the time in which the changes are to be made. Failure to mark the residences in accordance with the specifications will then place the task before Service-Safety Director C. M. Crafton.

The service director is required by the present law to install correct numbers where discrepancies exist and bill property owners for the charges They would be collectable on the real estate tax duplicate.

Discuss Mailing Notices.

Although the street committee has not yet decided how it will notify property owners whose house marking are incorrect, Berg said a plan of notifying them by mail had been discussed. Cards addressed to the residents requesting them to co-operate by placing the correct number which would be given on the card, could be financed for about $50, he said.

No plan has been devised for a recheck on the survey at the end of 90 days to see that the changes have been made.

Dahlias should be planted deeper in light soils than in heavy soil. Plant about 6 inches deep in light soil and 4 inches deep in heavy soil.

USE BRANDY TO FIGHT SOVIETS

Rumanians Bank On Pink Elephants To Beat Russian Army.

BUCHAREST — (AP) — Should Russians march into Bessarabia, Rumania plans to use brandy as well as bullets to repulse them.

In the last war, when Russians were in Rumania as allies, Rumanians say they guzzled all the liquor they could get their hands on and that their drunkenness resulted in several defeats.

As a strategic move, a reliable informant said, the general staff has moved big stocks of cheap brandy and vodka into the frontier region, to make liquor easily available to the Russians if they enter.

THEATERS

"Spook Show" Saturday.

Dr. Silkini, noted for his stage and screen "Ghost shows" will give a performance at the Madison theater Saturday night at one show only which begins at 11:30 p. m. He promises thrills, chills and fun at this presentation. Due to the secrecy nature of his uncanny display of mysticism, no children's tickets will be sold and any children attending must be accompanied by their parents.

Beloved by countless thousands of film and radio fans Jean Hersholt returns to the screen in "The Courageous Dr. Christian," now playing at the Madison. He plays the title role. Second in the popular series based on the radio character, it is still the heart-warming story of a country physician. The co-feature is "Swiss Family Robinson," at the Madison.

* * *

Doctors' Versatility.

In previous "Dr. Kildare," pictures Lew Ayres has had to learn the details of medical lore. In "Dr. Kildare's Strange Case," newest of the series, showing at the Ohio theater, he had to take to wrestling lessons and his teacher was a doctor. Because he was to handle a mental case, he was taken to several mental hospitals to be shown different holds by which doctors in such institutions control unruly or delirious patients.

* * *

Booth Tarkington Story.

With its theme woven around one of the most normal phases of boyhood—the craving for a dog—"Little Orvie," featuring John Sheffield in the famous Booth Tarkington character, is definitely classed as a comedy drama. This show opens Friday at the Majestic theater. The story deals with the adventures of an eight-year-old in a midwestern town when, forbidden to have a dog of his own, he takes informal possession of a stray canine he meets on the street and complications begin. Tim McCoy in "Straight Shooter" is the second feature.

* * *

Western Subjects.

Beginning Friday at the Ritz theater will be "The Cisco Kid and the Lady," with Cesar Romero, Marjorie Weaver and Virginia Field heading the cast. The feature attraction will be "Panamint's Bad Man" with Smith Ballew, Evelyn Daw, Noah Beery, sr., and Stanley Fields in the leading roles. Smith shoots it out with the outlaws and clears mountain trails for the express.

* * *

Women in Prison.

"Convicted Woman," which is showing at the Park theater through Saturday is the inside story of a woman's prison and is said to be a forceful and bitter indictment of greed and selfishness which makes such places a living death. Miss Rochelle Hudson is seen as the young girl who is unjustly committed to a house of correction. The co-feature is "Saga of Death Valley" with Roy Rogers in the leading role.

COLOR HOUSE

Structure Modeled After Votes of Visitors at Home Show.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—A new house, color-styled by 75,000 home owners from 46 states, was recently completed here.

Called "The House of Outside Color," it is one of a new small house development now under construction in Brucewood by a local building firm.

Its exterior colors: pepper red front door, chalk white walls and blue-black asphalt shingled roof were selected by polling visitors to a recent home show in New York City, also called "The House of Outside Color."

The color combination used on the model house received by far the largest number of votes cast in the New York exposition, which was devoted to demonstrating how the use of bright colors enhances the appearance and youthfulness of the average house.

500 Scouts and Fathers Attend Banquet Tonight

Five-hundred Mansfield Boy Scouts and their fathers are expected to attend the annual father and scout dinner tonight in the Westinghouse cafeteria.

To handle all those expected, dinner is to be served in two groups, according to Floyd Dent, scout executive. The first will eat at 5:45 p. m. and the second at 6:45.

While each group is being served the other will see a motion picture, "The Middleton Family at The World's Fair" in the auditorium. A program will be staged in the auditorium at 8 p. m. with C. G. Hillier as toastmaster of ceremonies.

The program is to include demonstration of scout activities by troop No. 1, the Sea Scout troop, and the Cub packs, junior section of the scout family.

TIRED, NERVOUS PEOPLE MAY HAVE SIMPLE ANEMIA
Simple Anemia (deficient quality of the blood) develops so gradually, in many people, that their blood is greatly impaired before they realize what is the matter.
Without enough hemoglobin to carry a plentiful supply of oxygen and other essential materials, your blood slowly starves your body into an apathetic state. The physical resistance of such a body is lowered, making us more susceptible to disease.
Fortunately, there is a simple way to fight simple Anemia—with Dr. Williams Pink Pills. They contain iron which the hemoglobin in your red blood cells must have to carry vital, life giving oxygen and other essentials from your lungs to every part of your body.
If you look pale, always feel tired, are easily upset and seem generally run-down, try Dr. Williams Pink Pills. Don't let simple Anemia get a stronger hold on you. But be sure you get the genuine Dr. Williams Pink Pills—

Vogel Grabs Second

Rolls 628 for Runner-Up Berth in Singles of City Tournament.

MANSFIELD keglers battling for top honors in the singles and doubles of the third annual City Handicap bowling tournament at the Meder alleys last night failed to threaten the pace-makers.

John Leppo and Farrell Hipp, runners-up in the doubles last year, collected an 1159 total to hop into fourth place in the doubles, while Fritz Vogel took over the No. 2 position in the singles with a 628. J. Moore is pacing the singles with a 648

* * *

Leppo hit a 617 for third place in the singles, and Mike Meder piled up a 612 for fourth.

* * *

Another assault on the maples will hold the attention at the Meder alleys Saturday and Sunday, when the classic winds up.

Kansas City, Toledo Lead In Association

Columbus Red Birds Game And a Half Behind.

(By Associated Press)

A week has elapsed since the opening of its 39th season but the American Association still presented a congested baseball situation today.

* * *

Two teams—Kansas City's defending champions and Toledo's last place finishers of a year ago.—were setting the pace with three triumphs and two defeats apiece. A game and a half behind came Columbus' cellar dwelling Red Birds despite the fact they own but one victory this season.

* * *

Columbus, after three setbacks, finally achieved victory yesterday Tom Sunkel turned in a masterful two-hitter to shade Al Moran's five-hit pitching and the Red Birds trimmed Kansas City

Louisville was the scene of another near pitching demonstration as Vedie himself held the Colonels to six hits and St. aul carried off a 3 to 1 decision

Indianapolis, however in the only other game scheduled 19 bases on balls were issued. Red Evans and Harry Smythe of Minneapolis yielded 11 of them and also permitted two more hits than did four Indian hurlers, but the Millers won, 8 to 5

Hurdlers Train For Mansfield Relays

Gene Au, left, and Fred Atwater, are pictured here as they soar over a hurdle in a practice at Stadium field yesterday. Two of the Mansfield high Red Streaks' better hurdlers, they are entered in the 14th annual Mansfield Relays Saturday. Mansfield has 35 athletes ready for the classic.

Akron West Sends 30 Boys to Mansfield Relays.

Akron West filed its entry today to bring the total to 37 Class A high schools competing in the 14th annual Mansfield Relays at Stadium field Saturday. West will send 30 youngsters to the meet. Coach Harry Mehock, director of the Relays, expects 10 junior high schools to enter this season. Among them will be John Simpson and Johnny Appleseed.

Fight Mob Says 'So Long' to Joe Jacobs

Little 'Yussel the Muscle' Dies of Heart Attack In Doctor's Office.

By SID FEDER

NEW YORK—(AP)—The fight mob along Broadway said "so long" to Joe Jacobs today.

Little "Yussel the Muscle," the colorful—almost legendary—character who came up out of New York's tough "Hell's Kitchen" to manage one world heavyweight champion and six other titleholders in assorted lighter divisions, died last night of a heart attack.

He passed away in a doctor's office, just 13 days short of his 44th birthday and just a few minutes after returning from supervising another of his "gag" stunts by which he gained for his fighters the publicity so important to the science of fisticuffing.

Jacobs

This was a newsreel series in which Tony Galento, pudgy Orange (N. J.) heavyweight whom Joe picked up off the fistic scrap heap a couple of years ago, answered Max Baer's allegations of "bum"

Galento and Baer are scheduled to fight in Jersey City May 28, the winner to meet Joe Louis for the heavyweight title some time this summer.

Everyone agreed the fight game had lost a man whose antics and accomplishments probably never would be equalled.

* * *

It was Yussel who bounced up on the apron of the ring in Yankee stadium that night on June 14, 1930, and screamed "foul" so loud that his Max Schmeling won the world heavyweight championship while groveling on the canvas from a low blow struck by Jack Sharkey.

* * *

It was Joe, who, when Sharkey won the title by a decision over the German heavyweight two years later howled "we wuz robbed," now an immortal part of fistiana's phraseology. There were other laugh-provoking terms he coined, for instance, his "I should have stood in bed," which he is supposed to have said after a friend woke him in the middle of his "night"—about 2 p. m.—to see a ball game one chilly day.

Son of a poor tailor, Joe was brought up in one of the toughest sections of New York—along Tenth avenue—in the heart of an Irish neighborhood.

Galento, summoned to the doctor's office where Joe died, broke down and, weeping, sobbed "Come on, Joey, come back, wake up."

Surviving Joe are two brothers, Caswell, a detective on the Broadway squad, and Ben, a real estate operator, and two sisters, Mrs May Grief and Miss Rose Jacobs.

PROSPECT TEAM MEETS

A meeting of Prospect park softball players will be held at the park pavilion at 8:30 p. m. Friday. Frank Balbaugh, manager of the team announced today. Balbaugh requests all members of last year's team be present. The club will enter the Y. M. C. A. Commercial league.

CHAMPION WINS

OAKLAND, Calif.—Little Dado, 116 Philippines NBA flyweight champion, outpointed Tony Olivera, 117, San Francisco, recognized as bantam champion by California (10).

Only 2 Weeks Left For ABC

Next Year's Event Already In Spotlight.

DETROIT — (AP) — The two-month American Bowling congress still has nearly two weeks to go at the Coliseum here, but already enthusiastic A B C officials are looking toward next year's tournament at St. Paul

* * *

Charley Vance, assistant secretary of the congress, predicted a 5,000 team entry when the classic goes to the northwest for the first time. The present tournament broke all marks for the number of teams entries with 6,073.

* * *

James McMahon and Sid Baum of New York collaborated yesterday on a 1313 total in the doubles which was good for fourth place, and McHahon's effort lifted him to fourth in the all-events with 1,980. George Nice and Art Landmark of Denver took third in the doubles with 1,321

Pros Strike; PGA Event Called Off

RICHMOND, Va.—(INS)—Led by Wee Bobby Cruickshank, the Virginia golf professionals "struck" today against exclusion of one of their number from the Middle Atlantic P. G. A. championship, and the event, scheduled for Friday and Saturday, was called off.

The fiery little Scotch veteran and his old-dominion-fellows refused to participate in the tourney when they learned that Chandler Harper, Portsmouth (Va.) pro, would be barred. Harper became a member of the Middle Atlantic Professional Golfers association only last Monday, and the National P. G. A. body does not recognize an applicant as a member until 30 days after his acceptance by the sectional association.

PRESIDENTS WIN

Marion Harding high Presidents drubbed the Mansfield high Reserve track team, 81 to 33, in a dual meet at Marion yesterday.

Hitters Decide Games

Earn Their Way by Poling Out 128 Blows in 7 Major League Games.

(By Associated Press)

THE major league hitters now can quit blushing at the sight of a box score.

They started earning their way yesterday with an imposing total of 128 blows in seven games and for the first time this season the batters and not the pitchers decided the outcome of most of the ball games.

* * *

Some 35 hurlers, an average of five a game, saw service and it would be difficult to assign many honors to such an assortment.

* * *

The world champion New York Yankees unleashed their home runs against the Philadelphia Athletics and won 9-4 although their 11 hits were only one more than Red Ruffing gave the A.'s. But the Yanks' lot included two homers by Red Rolfe and two others by Tom Henrich and Joe Gordon while the A's could muster only one by Wally Moses

The Cleveland Indians beat out the St. Louis Browns by the margin of a two-run homer by Ray Mack, 6-4, and took over first place in the American league

The Washington Senators outhit the Boston Red Sox 12-6 and thus were able to chalk up their first victory of the season 9-6 Seven pitchers, including Lefty Grove, paraded to and from the mound.

Even the games that approximated pitching duels were broken up by the hitters In the Detroit Tigers' 2-1 triumph over the Chicago White Sox the margin of victory was a homer in the sixth by Rudy York This was Tommy Bridges' second decision of the young season.

The New York Giants scored a similar sort of a victory over the Philadelphia Phillies, 5-2 with Rookie Babe Young breaking up the struggle in the eighth by a three-run homer Hy Vandenberg gave five hits in winning and Hugh Mulcahy was touched for seven in losing

* * *

The Pittsburgh Pirates dropped out of the tie for first in the National league as the Chicago Cubs triumphed 9-4. The Pirates got 11 hits off Bill Lee and four Pittsburgh pitchers allowed one less. Paul Waner was used as a pinch hitter again and for the third consecutive time came through with a hit.

* * *

The Brooklyn Dodgers took a wild, unruly struggle from the Boston Bees, 8-6, coming from behind in the eighth after Whitlow Wyatt (who shut out the Bees on opening day last week) had given up five runs in the first three innings to squander the four runs Brooklyn gave him in the first inning

The Cincinnati Reds and St. Louis Cardinals were idle.

Reds Hope To Play Today

Derringer and Dean to Pair Off in Chicago.

CHICAGO — (AP) — Here in the city of great winds but no floods the Cincinnati Reds propose to play a game of ball today, their first since Monday and their fourth since the opener eight day ago against the same Chicago Cubs.

* * *

The great Paul Derringer and the once great Dizzy Dean, who is trying his darnedest to prove his value to the Cubs, are the pitchers. Both have had plenty of rest. Paul has been watching Ohio river backwater cover his favorite pitcher's mound back in Cincinnati and Dizzy hasn't pitched enough this year to get tired.

* * *

Done out of their share of first place in the standings by the flood, the Reds are out to make it three straight over the Cubs and four straight over the field. The Brooklyn Dodgers took undisputed possession of the top spot with their fourth victory yesterday against no losses, but the Reds couldn't keep up.

They hope and pray that when they return to Cincinnati Saturday they'll find the river staying away from their door at the ball park so they can have their first meeting with the Pittsburgh Pirates. All three of their games in Pittsburgh last week were rained out.

WILL JOIN LEAGUE

CHILLICOTHE —(INS)— Chillicothe high school today accepted an invitation to join the Central Ohio Athletic League beginning with the 1941 season.

Vander Meer's Hurling Helps Dislodge Bird.

CINCINNATI—(AP)—A South American macaw cawed in his coop at the zoo here today—thanks to the pitching prowess of Johnny Vander Meer of the Cincinnati Reds. The bird escaped and perched in a 90-foot tree. S. G. Stephan, veterinarian, had the baseball star hurl firecrackers to dislodge the rain-soaked macaw and it was caught in a net.

Clevelanders Warm Up As Redskins Win

Indians Go to 1st Place By Beating Browns, 6-4.

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Shivering Cleveland fans warmed up today as the Indians came home in first place.

The Redskins went to the top in St. Louis yesterday with a 6 to 4 victory over the Browns, giving them a season record of four triumphs and one defeat.

Bob Feller was nominated to keep the Tribe on top today in an encore of the season opener in Chicago Bob, who hurled a no-hitter that day, was scheduled to again face southpaw Edgar Smith.

* * *

Al Milnar, who won 14 and lost 12 in 1939, posted his first decision of the year in limiting the Browns to eight hits in eight innings. Vitt was forced to call in Joe Dodson and Al Smith in the ninth as the Browns threatened with two hits, but the rally failed to produce a run.

* * *

Ray Mack's home run in the eighth clinched the decision for the Indians It climaxed a three-run rally featured by singles by Jeff Heath and Ken Keltner.

The Indians scored a run in each of the first three innings. The first came on Roy Weatherly's double and Hal Trosky's single, the second on Keltner's double and Hemsley's single and the third on a base on balls and Ben Chapman's double

The Browns picked up a run in the seventh on a hit batsman and a two-base hit and three more in the eighth after Lou Boudreau threw wild on a double-play ball.

Johnny Allen is due to pitch the closing contest of the Chicago series tomorrow.

* * *

As the first invasion into the home grounds of the powerful Yankees and Red Sox neared Cleveland fans opined the Tribe's chances depend on how well the team hits.

* * *

The club has shown a marked defensive improvement, especially in the infield, and the pitching staff looks as good as any in the league so far.

Heroes and Goats

(By International News Service)

HEROES — Fred Walker, Dodgers whose pinch-single drove in two runs to give the Dodgers an 8-6 victory over the Bees yesterday Red Rolfe whose two homers helped the Yanks trounce the Athletics 9-4

Tommy Bridges who gave only five hits as the Tigers downed the White Sox 2-1

Hy Vandenberg who also gave only five hits as the Giants beat the Phils, 5-2.

GOATS—Bill Swift who failed to protect a lead for the Bees

Max Butcher who was pounded for five runs in the first inning as the Cubs beat the Pirates 9 to 4.

Jim Tabor Red Sox third baseman, whose mental and physical lapses played a large part in Washington's 9-6 victory over the Red Sox

TOP-NOTCHERS TO PLAY CHARITY GOLF MATCH

NEW YORK—(INS)—Jimmy DeMaret, Gene Sarazen, Babe Ruth and possibly Gene Tunney will engage in a charity golf match at Norwalk, Conn., on May 12, with a sound truck blaring out musical wails and with galleryites permitted to talk while play is on.

This revolutionary departure from the usual peace and quiet surrounding links competition has been decided upon as a test to prove that golfers can concentrate and play as well in the midst of a little confusion as they can with everybody shushed into whispers.

Death Halts Decision on Tony Galento-Baer Fight.

NEW YORK—(U.P.)—No decision has yet been made as to what effect the death of Joe Jacobs will have on the Tony Galento-Max Baer fight scheduled to be held in Jersey City, May 28. Promoter Mike Jacobs was expected to hold a conference some time today to decide if the fight would go through.

Dudas, Merritt To Fight In Cleveland

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Dayton, Lorain and Elyria will be represented on a boxing program tonight topped by a 10-rounder between heavyweights Steve Dudas of New York and Dan Merritt of Cleveland.

Pepper Lawrence, Dayton lightweight, will meet Georgie Toy of Cleveland in a six, Lorain's Jimmy Alu tangles with lightweight Joey Pirrone of Cleveland in a four, and welterweight Steve Stefek of Elyria fights Bobby Berry of Cleveland in a four.

FISHING FOR FUN

Tips On Casting: 3

By MILTON KRAFT
(National All-Around Champion)

The dry fly must land delicately and float, and Champion Milton Kraft here illustrates the easy cast which achieves that. The cast proper brings the rod from the 11 o'clock position on the dial (left) to the 2 o'clock angle.

* * * * *

THE DRY FLY

DRY FLY fishing is tops in scientific angling. To lay the fly gently on the surface of a stream, exactly where a rise has occurred perhaps 40 or 50 feet away, calls for real skill and delights any true fisherman.

* * *

In starting, we will assume that the fly already is afloat afloat and the rod—according to our clock-dial illustration—points to 2 o'clock, the natural fishing position.

* * *

To pick up the fly for a new cast, let the rod drift down from 2 to 4. Then bring it up to 12 (straight upright) and drift back to the 11 o'clock position. Here the forward cast starts, the power being increased from 11 to 2, where the cast ends.

If the caster carried the power through to the 4 position, as in wet fly casting, this power application would sink the fly. The dry fly must hit delicately and float.

When properly done, the back cast sends the line out in a beautiful straight stretch, behind the angler, terminating in a half loop. To resume the forward cast too abruptly will snap the fly off.

* * *

Where trees or other hazards behind him do not permit this technique, the fisherman uses a roll cast. This is done by elevating the rod-tip to vertical, allowing the line to drift in to the shoulder, then flipping it forward to the starting position.

* * *

The line straightens out in front without having passed behind the angler.

New York Grabs $166,471.25 From Pari-Mutuel Racing

By HENRY McLEMORE

NEW YORK — (U.P.) — New York state got its first check from pari-mutuel racing today—a certified bit of papyrus worth $166,471.25—and plans to honor the horse immediately got under way.

* * *

The check, representing the state's cut in the first week of racing at Jamaica, furnished a rousing hint as to what a debt of gratitude New York will owe the horse before the racing season ends. With more than 30 weeks of racing on the calendar the state cannot miss being enriched by six or seven million dollars.

* * *

This ain't hay, even if it does come from the barns, so to speak, and so sensitive and appreciative persons already are thinking of ways and means to honor the thoroughbred for his generosity.

I'd like to offer a few suggestions.

The capitol would be transferred from Albany to some place like Saratoga at once. The present building at Albany could be turned into an old horses' home open to any four-legged philanthropist when his racing days come to an end.

The title of governor would be abandoned and "presiding steward" adopted for the chief executive.

The justice of the supreme court would be known as the patrol judge and his fellow justices as clerks of the course.

All state senators would be numbered and entrance into the legislative halls (or stalls) would be made through the Puett starting gate. Fractious legislators who opposed measures aimed to aid the public would be led to the outside and the twitch put on them.

The state song would be changed to "Boots and Saddles" and the blossom of the horse radish adopted as the state flower.

* * *

The coat of arms would undergo a change, too. A heraldy expert could devise an appropriate shield and crest such as a bath of torn up $2 mutuel tickets rampant on a tote board, with couchant horseplayers.

* * *

If all these things were done in honor of the horse it would not be too much. He is really developing into a fur-bearing mint for the state. Last year the state's total take from the tracks was just a shade over $600,000 This year the horse will turn in more than that in the first month.

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK—(AP)—Reporters going to Col. E. R. Bradley's Idle Hour farm to watch Bimelech must check their stop watches at the gate. . . . George (Presto) Marshall, one of the pro football barons, says the league would like to transfer the Chicago Cardinal franchise to Boston. . . . An exhibition golf match between Babe Ruth, Gene Sarazen, Jimmy Demaret and Gene Tunney is being lined up for Norwalk, Conn., May 12.

* * *

OVERHEARD.

On Ken Keltner's first trip to the plate in the Cleveland opener a loudmouth shouted: "Fifteen-dollars-a-week-Keltner! . . . Fifteen-dollars Keltner" . . . Whereupon, another grandstander arose, fixed a cold stare on the loud gent and yelled back "So vot? Fifteen dollars is fifteen dollars, ain't it?"

* * *

Daniel F. Mulvey, New Haven Evening Register: "Not even 'The Angel' can rescue wrestling here. . . . The game has gone plumb to the devil."

Bimelech Bids For Fifth Win

Goes to Post in Sixteenth Running of Blue Grass.

LEXINGTON, Ky. — (U.P.) — Mighty Bimelech — Col. Edward Riley Bradley's four-star bid for a fifth victory in the Kentucky Derby—went to the post today in the 16th running of the $5,000-added Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland park. The race may break him as future book favorite for the Run of the Roses.

* * *

Now held at 8-5, shortest future price in derby history, the 1939 juvenile champion faced only two rivals in his first start was a three-year-old. They were Bimelech's stablemate, Bashful Duck, and J. E. Widener's Roman. But despite the small field, the mile and one-eighth fixture was watched by every horseman in the nation.

* * *

That is because reports have circulated for two months that rain and cold weather have retarded the Bradley colt's condition. Bradley has neither confirmed nor denied the rumors, but merely announced that Bimelech wouldn't be sent into the Churchill Downs classic unless he was "ready." The Blue Grass today was looked upon as a test of Bimelech's readiness.

TENNIS TEAM WINS

COLUMBUS—(INS)—With a clean sweep of all matches, the Ohio State tennis team today proudly placed on the records a 9-to-0 victory over the University of Pittsburgh Netmen. It was State's second straight win.

WRESTLERS CLASH TONIGHT

COLUMBUS — (INS) — With a crack at the junior-heavyweight wrestling title of Gil Knutsen to go to the winner, Morris Shapiro, New York grappler, and Frankie Talaber, former titlist from Chicago, will clash tonight at Columbus auditorium.

HERE'S 'ANGEL' AGAIN

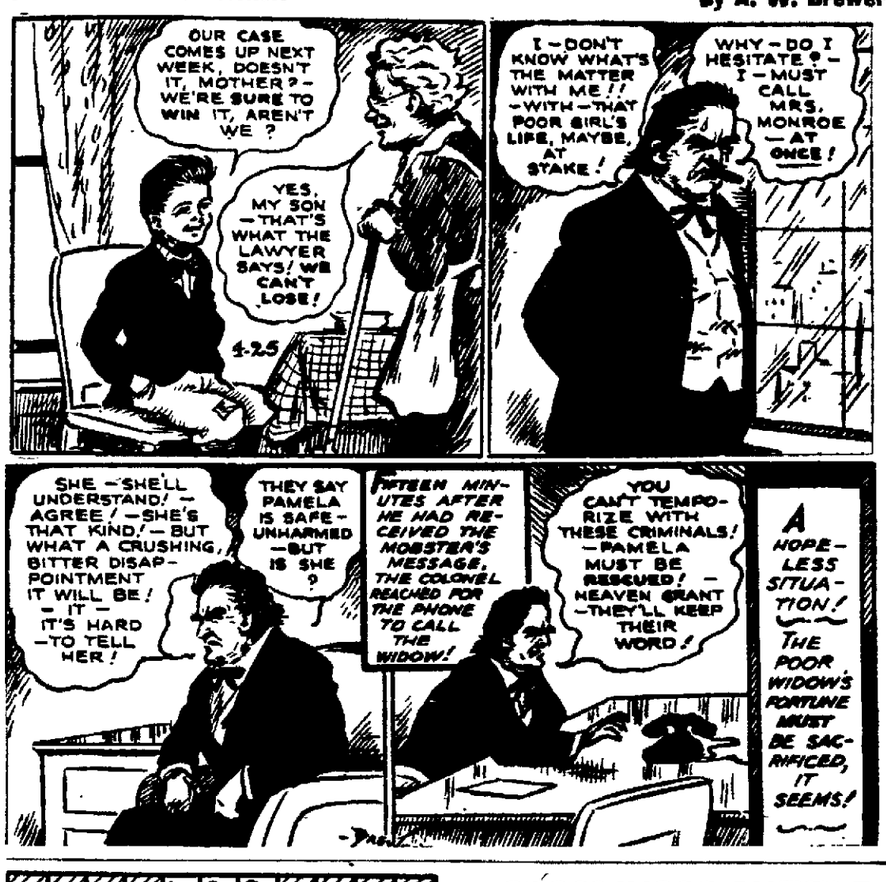
PAM— The Pood Colonel! By A. W. Brewerton



OUR CASE COMES UP NEXT WEEK, DOESN'T IT, MOTHER?— WE'RE SURE TO WIN IT, AREN'T WE?
YES, MY SON —THAT'S WHAT THE LAWYER SAYS! WE CAN'T LOSE!
4-25
I—DON'T KNOW WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH ME!! —WITH—THAT POOR GIRL'S LIFE, MAYBE, AT STAKE!
WHY—DO I HESITATE?— I—MUST CALL MRS. MONROE —AT ONCE!
SHE—SHE'LL UNDERSTAND!— AGREE!—SHE'S THAT KIND!— BUT WHAT A CRUSHING, BITTER DISAPPOINTMENT IT WILL BE! —IT— IT'S HARD —TO TELL HER!
THEY SAY PAMELA IS SAFE— UNHARMED —BUT IS SHE?
FIFTEEN MINUTES AFTER HE HAD RECEIVED THE MOBSTER'S MESSAGE, THE COLONEL REACHED FOR THE PHONE TO CALL THE WIDOW!
YOU CAN'T TEMPORIZE WITH THESE CRIMINALS! —PAMELA MUST BE RESCUED! —HEAVEN GRANT —THEY'LL KEEP THEIR WORD!
A HOPELESS SITUATION! THE POOR WIDOW'S FORTUNE MUST BE SACRIFICED, IT SEEMS!

JUDGE PUFFLE By Gene Ahern

YOU LADS, WHO EAT HURRIED LUNCH-COUNTER BREAKFASTS, WILL HAVE TO ADMIT THAT THE STREAMLINED "PUFFLE DOUGH-DUNK" IS A GREAT IMPROVEMENT ON THE ROUND DOUGHNUT FOR COFFEE DUNKING!----- YOU CAN SAFELY EAT THIS TO THE LAST DID WITHOUT COFFEE TRICKLING DOWN INTO YOUR SLEEVE CUFFS!
YOU'VE TAKEN THE SPORTING THRILL OUT OF OLD-FASHIONED DUNKING!—I LIKE SOPPING THE ROUND DOUGHNUT AND THEN WORRY MY TEETH AROUND THE CLUBHOUSE TURN TO BEAT THE BREAK WHEN IT SOFTENS!
IT MIGHT PUT HIM IN THE HALL OF FAME

STOCKS TRY TO RALLY BEHIND STEELS TODAY

Most Leaders, However, Fail to Get Very Far; Foreign Markets Firm.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—Stocks tried for a rally behind the steels in today's market, but most leaders failed to get very far.

U. S. Steel and Bethlehem, up around a point at one time, later backed away from the best.

Bonds were selectively improved and commodities higher. Markets were fairly firm at London, Paris and Amsterdam.

Most important news considered in-board rooms before the opening was rescinding of recent steel price cuts by Carnegie-Illinois.

Interesting to aviation enthusiasts were estimates passenger traffic is currently running at a record level with the peak season still ahead.

GERMANS SCORE SECOND VICTORY IN NORWAY WAR

Allied Forces Are Pushed Back at Lillehammer in South as Nazis Move North.

wounded Norwegian soldiers.

The new Nazi advance in the Oesterdalen region was designed to sever Allied lines of communication in Norway and to permit a junction between the Roeros forces and the victorious battalions at Steinkjer.

The Roeros troops apparently covered more than 50 miles in less than 24 hours.

German forces were reported battling combined British and Norwegian troops in a violent engagement north of captured Steinkjer today while British planes harried Nazi positions around Trondheim.

According to advices received in Stockholm, British bombing planes dropped bombs on the strong German-held Agdenes fort at the entrance of Trondheim fjord.

The battle north of Steinkjer began as German troops which captured the town began a vigorous campaign to consolidate their gains.

The Germans took Steinkjer after the city was subjected to a terrific aerial and artillery bombardment that left 6,000 Norwegian residents homeless. Today it was learned that the German destroyers which moved up to the northernmost point of Trondheim Fjord also took an active part in the battle.

It appeared that the British and Norwegian forces fell back in good order to specially prepared positions north of Steinkjer where they planned to make a determined stand against the German offensive.

Results of the fighting as the Germans sought to continue their advance were not immediately known.

It was believed, however, that the battle now progressing might have a crucial effect upon the Allied-Norwegian attempt to wrest Trondheim, 60 miles south of Steinkjer, from the Germans.

Meanwhile, a sharp German warning against alleged bombing of open towns in Schleswig-Holstein was seen as an indication that unrestricted aerial warfare may shortly flare in the war.

"England has opened air war against undefended places that have no military value or significance," the Nazi high command said.

The British replied with a flat denial that their planes bombed any objective without military value.

Reports to Stockholm said British planes bombed the German-Held Agdenes fort at the entrance of Trondheim Fjord despite a raging snowstorm. British air ministry officials in London, however, said they could not confirm this report.

From his retreat in the north, meanwhile, King Haakon once more defied the Nazis, announcing that negotiations between Germany and his government could begin only on the basis of withdrawal of German troops from the country. He added:

"I feel sure my people under all circumstances will keep a firm attitude befitting Norwegians and maintain their national spirit."

From Berlin, Rear Admiral Lutzow in a radio broadcast claimed that the German destroyer Flotilla, said by the British to have been sunk in the second battle of Narvik, in reality was scuttled "according to plan."

A little later the British radio commented:

"The German people have at last been told of their naval losses."

The British air ministry, at the same time, announced a German air raid over the Orkney islands and attempted attack upon the British naval base at Scapa Flow.

"No damage and no casualties resulted," said the communique.

LISTS CLEAN-UP WEEK SCHEDULE

Crafton Designates Days For Collection of Rubbish In City's 6 Wards.

May 6, will launch the pick-up service on the First Ward.

The remainder of the schedule is as follows:

Tuesday, May 7, Second Ward; Wednesday, May 8, Third Ward; Thursday May 9, Fourth Ward; Friday, May 10, Fifth Ward; Saturday, May 11, Sixth Ward.

City Trucks will remove all rubbish, but it must be placed in containers at the curb. Crafton warned against placing ashes for removal, pointing out that the city maintains an ash removal service in connection with the garbage collection free of charge.

He requested property owners in the residential district as well as business sections to co-operate, citing the benefits derived from such a campaign—improved sanitary conditions, elimination of fire hazards, enhanced property values and creation of employment.

SWEDEN'S PERIL GROWS GRAVER; 'DECISION' DUE

French Sources Report More Nazi Troops Leaving From Baltic Ports.

attacked allied troops before being repulsed, was carried out by German vessels already in Trondheim fjord.

"It is not impossible," the spokesman added, "that the allies have established positions about 40 miles south of Trondheim, but this is not confirmed."

He added that the Gulf of Bothnia, through which Germany will be able to ship iron ore direct from Sweden, is not expected to thaw before May 15 or 20.

SWEDES START RECRUITING

Bombs, Trojan Horse Trick Menaces Swedes.

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

With the Allied and Nazi forces in Norway finally getting into the full swing of their military operations, after preliminary preparations, the danger of a German invasion of Sweden becomes more pressing.

Indeed, an authorized source in Berlin declared that the hour for Sweden's "decision" (presumably as to whether she will side with the Reich) is approaching.

This came on top of the French announcement that the Nazis have been loading troops on transports in Baltic ports just opposite Sweden, giving further grim warning that the Scandinavian country's time of trial may be near.

We shouldn't overlook the possibility that this is a distraction to cover a projected assault on Holland, or perhaps in the Balkans. However, the position of Sweden remains precarious.

I should say that the chances of invasion would increase or decrease in accordance with the success of German operations in Norway. If things go well for the Nazis they may hold their hand against Sweden; if the battle runs against them, they likely will strike quicker.

The Swedes are standing at arms, and are said to be set to defend themselves to the full extent of their ability. This should be very considerable so far as land operations are concerned.

Unfortunately, however, the invaders probably will depend largely on their air fleet to blast the unhappy country into submission.

But the Swedes must face another peril which can be even more devastating than bombs — the ghostly worker which prepared Austria and Czecho-Slovakia and Poland for the sacrifice, and finally delivered the unsuspecting Norwegians into the hands of the enemy through a ruse.

I refer to that insidious thing which has come to be known as "The Fifth Column." Some call it the "Trojan Horse."

The Fifth Column is a phrase used to describe underground, subversive activities within a country by foreign political interests.

Europe has just awakened to the fact that the Nazis have developed this art so intensely and so successfully that the Old World is fairly honeycombed with it.

The technique is to send into a country all sorts of agents—tourists, teachers, businessmen, settlers, and what not. These folk inspire the formation of Nazi (or whatever the ism is) political parties get hold of official positions in organizations, preach the Nazi doctrine to young people and organize youth movements, and in a hundred other ways serve the Fuehrer.

Richland Farmers 3 Weeks Behind, Face Heavy Losses

Extensive April rainfall, nearing a record high for the month, is threatening to set Richland county's crops back at least three weeks and place farmers in a position for heavy losses from fall frosts.

That was the belief expressed today by state agricultural department officials whose observers have been touring southern and central Ohio to view the setback from spring rains and floods.

The corn crop especially would be affected by early frosts, officials predicted. Other crops such as wheat, alfalfa, oats, barley, and soy beans would not be hit materially by shorter growing season, they said.

Planting of corn in the Mansfield area will be at least three weeks late this spring, along with the rest of central and southern part of the state, department observers reported, because there is still a "tremendous amount of plowing to be done." Planting normally is nearly finished by May 1, they said.

Weather observers, awaiting final state-wide reports, indicated that rainfall this month was crowding the April record of 6.37 inches set in 1893 and predicted more rain before May.

The weather forecast said it would be "partly cloudy" tonight and Friday. Showers were predicted for Friday.

TUGBOAT STRIKE

Operations in Nearly Every Lake Port Paralyzed.

CLEVELAND —(ANS— Tugboat operations in every major Great Lakes part except Milwaukee were paralyzed today by a strike of the A. F. of L. Tug Firemen, Linemen and Oilers union against the Great Lakes Towing company.

Capt. Chester W. Willett, president of the company, said that approximately 50 tugs, Great Lakes' entire fleet, were tied up. The company has exclusive rights to tow freighters in all harbors but Milwaukee.

John Malloy, president of local 3 of the union, said that locals in all Great Lakes ports served by the company except Lorain, O., had voted to strike, and had waited only for word from John J. Kolp, national president. Kolp authorized the strike early today.

The strike affected about 30 firemen and oilers in Cleveland, and a like number of captains and engineers were left without work.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

Mansfield News-Journal

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, THURSDAY, APRIL 25, 1940

Everything would be different if Europe only had an international baseball league.

Debaters about third terms, or anything else, usually "come out at the same door where in they went."

There's no accounting for language—as when a "record" becomes a "recording" and a "hearing" becomes an "audition."

Guidance For New Citizens

ONE REPORT presented at the recent national meeting of the D. A. R. dealt with the work of members of the society who, during the past year, helped to prepare aliens for citizenship and helped newly naturalized citizens "in the exercise of their privileges and obligations."

It is good to hear of such work at a time when there is more than usual clamor against all aliens and even against foreign-born citizens. If more native Americans who look with fearful eye upon Americans of foreign background would help the newcomers to understand our country and become adjusted to its ways, it would be wholesome for all concerned.

The proportion of spies and enemies among our alien residents is really very low, and the proper authorities may be relied upon to take care of that problem. The success of aliens in becoming good citizens depends largely upon our own faithfulness in practice to the democratic principles we preach.

Widespread Refugee Problems

AT A MEETING celebrating the ninth anniversary of the founding of the now destroyed Spanish Republic, the former ambassador from Madrid, Dr. Fernando de los Rios, mentioned a subject which has been much discussed in this country lately. There have been persistent reports of the suffering and mistreatment of Spanish refugees in France. They cannot return to their homes because General Franco not only has granted no amnesty to Loyalists but is still imprisoning and executing Spaniards who fought for the Republic.

"In spite of the fact that we do not believe that France and England did as much for Republican Spain as they should have," said Dr. de los Rios, "we are deeply grateful for the help given them—particularly in France. France took in 500,000 Spanish refugees when nobody else would take them and has spent more than 200,000,000 francs in their support."

The refugee problem throughout Europe is tragic. We do not know the full number of homeless wanderers in France and England and all the neutral countries. Their resources are so scant that they can do little for themselves.

If mistakes have been made and cruelties inflicted on some of them, perhaps they have been chiefly the result of the immensity and swift development of the problem.

Street of Many Nations

RAYMOND STREET, in Cleveland, is probably typical of many streets in cities throughout the United States. It gained attention the other day when a newspaper reporter studied the neighborhood to find out how many different nationalities were represented there and how they got along.

He began with an American-born citizen of Slovak origin, whose people had been in that area long enough to be members of the Early Settlers' association. This American, with the "foreign" name of Sabovik, introduced his neighbors and their national origins. In houses side by side, and even in different flats in the same apartment house, were found Slovaks, Bohemians, Italians, Hungarians, Germans, Irish, Welsh, Scotch, Dutch, Poles, Russians, Slovenes and English.

"With so many nationalities on one street, you would think we argue about race and such things," said one of the neighbors. "Well, we never do. Everybody respects the other's background."

Even granting that there is not universal harmony in all such groups, and that here and there Old World animosities crop out, it remains true that the United States is a living demonstration of a great idea: that people of different races, nationalities and religious beliefs can live together peacefully. They make friends with each other. They have mutual respect and tolerance. And that is a great contribution to civilization.

Too Much Specialization?

MAYBE this generation is carrying specialized skill too far. It is the case in engineering, at least, insists Ernest E. Thum, editor of Metal Progress. "The undoubted trend of technical or engineering schools in the last ten years," he says, "has been toward specialized courses for the technician rather than courses for the leader or planner whom we like to call engineer."

He doesn't know, though, whether anything can be done about it, because industry today appears to need "technicians, machine tenders and machine supervisors rather than engineers."

Some doctors complain likewise about the growing specialization in the medical profession. It becomes harder and harder, they say, to find a physician who treats "the whole patient" instead of treating some small part of him. There are now said to be signs of a revival of the old idea that when a person is ailing, it's usually more than just a small section of him that's sick—that the whole patient may need the attention of an expert trained to regard the man or woman as a complete unit.

These, however, are high matters that a layman shouldn't meddle with.

Another Washington Honored

AMONG the men and women whose faces appear on a new series of postage stamps honoring great Americans is Booker T. Washington, Negro educator and leader. This Washington was the child of a slave. He began his education by attending night school. Later, at Hampton Normal and Agricultural Institute in Virginia, he earned his way by working as a janitor.

After graduation he taught in various places, organized Tuskegee Institute, wrote a number of books and made many speeches in behalf of the education and advancement of his people. He was not only the idol of American Negroes, but the friend of presidents and a distinguished White House guest.

This will be a finer America when there is more general acceptance of the idea that "greatness" comes from fine character and worthy accomplishments and that the attributes of good citizenship are more dependent on individual conduct than on color or creed.

Religion will become more convincing when it's practiced as much as it's preached.

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—The Tuckers have moved in and taken over everything in town, including Grant's Tomb. We picked up a paper at breakfast this morning, and, by George, everything in it was just Tucker, Tucker, Tucker.

Sophie Tucker got back to town and was loudly kissed by Eddie Cantor. Madge Tucker was at NBC in complete charge of all kid programs. Johnny Tucker, the song-writing fireman, was coining new tunes on Tin Pan Alley. Tommy Tucker, the orchestra leader, had moved into a Manhattan nightspot. And Orrin Tucker, with all 98 lbs. of Wee Bonnie Baker in tow, made his NY debut at a Park Ave. hotel.

It was Sophie, known affectionately to her cafe intimates as "the best damn caballero in all damn Mejico," who had the first opening. Broadway gave a heart-warming demonstration of how much it loves this sponge-hearted sentimental old gal of the honky tonks by making Nick drag out extra chairs that haven't been used in months at the Versailles. And when Eddie Cantor moved out on the floor in an unprogrammed appearance, and kissed her, and told her that without her Broadway would be just another Stradivarius without strings, Sophie had to reach for her hankie. After she recovered her composure she kissed Eddie back and sang three more nostalgically reminiscent confessions on international love.

* * *

IF ORRIN TUCKER'S first New York appearance was an artistic triumph for himself and the black-eyed Miss Baker, it was not without its overtones of melancholy for the young maestro. His best friend, Lou Diamond, who had flown in just to attend the event, dropped dead.

There is one sentimental angle to this demise that the papers have not enlarged. Lou Diamond was a Paramount executive. He and Orrin had been friends for years, ever since Orrin made some short subjects for him four years ago. Thereafter he made it a point to attend all of Tucker's openings. He flew to Chicago for his opening there. He had flown in, only a few hours earlier, for this important New York appearance.

Sometime before midnight Lou and his wife were with Orrin's mother, in the Empire Room, sharing in the festivities and watching the applause that was being enthusiastically led from a ring-side table by Art Jarret and Betty Grable. Diamond suddenly pushed his chair back. He murmured a faint "Oh." He slumped down, and in a few moments was dead.

* * *

AS FOR wee Bonnie, everyone here is simply nuts about her. She doesn't sit with the orchestra throughout the evening, as most vocalists do. She comes down only for Dinner and Supper shows, but on these occasions she sings all you ask her to. On her opening night, for which there were 989 supper reservations, she sang nine encores. When she comes out you can hear a pin drop. She is barely five feet in height. Ted Nicholas, an Indianapolis, Ind., boy who is Tucker's manager, tells me she wears size 4½ shoe. She is the first girl on record who ever commercialized a sigh. Tucker himself is a tall young man with black curly hair and a wide, half-shy grin. I would guess that he is now among the nation's top four or five dance bands.

IS THE HONEYMOON OVER?

Health And Diet

Diabetes Cure Possible But Rare.

—By DR. CLENDENING

Is diabetes ever cured?

Diabetes can be kept under control so that it gives practically no disagreeable symptoms, but cases of cure are rare. By cure I mean that the patient can eat whatever he likes with no insulin, and has no sugar in the urine.

A patient reported by Dr. Elliot Joslin developed diabetes at the age of two. At first she was a severe diabetic, requiring 30 to 40 units of insulin a day, as well as a carefully-regulated diet. She continued this way until her first year in college. Then the insulin requirement dropped off: in her junior year she needed only five units, and in her senior year none at all. She is now 22 years old.

Another type is a man, 65 years old, who had diabetes for six years. He was a mild type and required only 15 units of insulin a day. Then he had a gall-bladder operation and the diabetes steadily improved. Now he eats what he likes, takes no insulin and shows no sign of diabetes.

The explanation is that the cause of diabetes is an atrophy of the secretory cells of the pancreas which manufacture insulin. But with this atrophy there goes a tendency for the cells to regenerate in the course of time and start functioning again. There is, therefore, no inherent reason why diabetes should not tend toward recovery, if the cells are rested by the artificial supply of insulin, and with improvement in treatment patients will live longer and cases of cure increase.

What is the modern treatment of epilepsy?

Epilepsy is due to an irritation of the motor section of the brain. If this is caused by skull injury or irritation from a tumor, the irritation can be removed by surgical treatment. Scars and areas of pressure and adhesions can be improved in this way.

Most cases of epilepsy, however, are not of this kind. The three methods of treatment of the functional form of epilepsy are depressant drugs, high fat (ketogenic) diet and fluid restriction. Adherence to diet and fluid restriction will control most cases.

The depressant medicines used include the bromides and barbiturates. They act by depressing the irritable motor cortex of the brain.

Under the auspices of the Harvard Epilepsy commission, cases treated with a new compound have been reported. It is not a sedative nor a soporific; hence the patient is much clearer and more alert mentally than when the barbiturates are used. It was carefully tested on laboratory animals before its use in human beings and its ability to stop convulsions was proved beforehand. In favorable cases it reduces the number of convulsions; in one case the patient going a year with only one attack.

Listen, World!

The Right Time Never Comes.

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

YOU are waiting to do something. The thing you are waiting to do is important. It may affect your whole life. Great good fortune may come out of it.

But, on the other hand, there's also an element of risk in it. It may cause unpleasantness—may mess things up.

And so you've delayed. Of course you intend to do it some day, BUT YOU'RE WAITING FOR THE RIGHT TIME TO COME.

Some day when it's perfectly convenient—

When it won't cause a lot of complications—

When you're absolutely sure that everything is okay—

Then you'll do it. Sez you!

NO, YOU WON'T!

YOU'LL NEVER DO IT AT THAT TIME, FOR THAT TIME WILL NEVER COME.

The ideal time for action never does come. Not for anyone.

No human step has ever been taken that was 100 per cent wise, safe, pleasant and convenient.

There's always a good reason AGAINST doing anything. There are often as many reasons against doing a thing as there are reasons FOR doing it.

And if you "stop, look and listen" to all those reasons, you'll never go ahead.

But shouldn't you look at both sides of the question?

You should. You should take every point into consideration; investigate every danger; size up the probable profit and the possible price.

You should do this thoroughly—ONCE. Then you should either fish or cut bait.

For if you keep on enumerating all the dangers to yourself, you'll never do anything else but. Each new resume of the dangers ahead will chill and muddle and frighten you the more.

Of course you can alibi this process by calling it "caution." BUT IT ISN'T CAUTION—IT'S COWARDICE.

It's the old primitive fear, lurking in us yet—the fear of the savage, who was afraid to cross the big mountain or the wide water, who dared not leave his own familiar bit of jungle. Treasure might lie in the mountain. Freedom might wait across the river. But there were risks, and so he delayed: talked about going some day, but never went.

If there is something you should do and you know you should do it—do it.

DO IT RIGHT NOW.

It will be inconvenient. Of course, it will.

PROGRESS IS ALWAYS INCONVENIENT. PROGRESS IS ALWAYS UNPLEASANT AND UNCOMFORTABLE; USUALLY DANGEROUS.

But it's worth it!

So go ahead; be a man, not a mouse. Take your chances. Cross your mountain!

STOP STALLING!

Too Many Mistakes.

The Farm Credit Administration has been trying to figure out why one out of every three of the 12,508 farmers who lost their homes through bank foreclosures were unable to meet the conditions of their debts "under normal conditions."

"It is obvious," says the report, "that over-appraisals have been rather frequent. Also it is declared by the land banks that 53 per cent of the borrowers 'did not do their best.' Eleven per cent were said 'not to have made proper application of farm income.'"

One might ask why a government agency supposed to operate disinterestedly for the benefit of the farmers, should make so many serious mistakes. Why were over-appraisals over-frequent and why were loans made to farmers who were not doing their best and who were not making proper application of their incomes?

Just a little investigation in the average rural community will determine what farmers are good debt risks. The "analysis" may have overlooked the fact that Uncle Sam did a lot of advertising that seemed to give the impression the loaning of money to farmers was but one of his many benevolences.—Detroit News.

WASHINGTON Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—As the Italian fleet hovered within striking distance of Salonika and the Greek coast last week, Allied diplomats in Rome engaged in some very blunt talking with Count Ciano, son-in-law of Mussolini.

What they did was to lay down the cards as to what would happen to Italy if Il Duce took his country into the war. Especially, they laid emphasis on the Allied achievements in Norway.

It is now well recognized that Hitler went into Norway largely as a ruse to divert the British fleet, and other Allied forces, up to the out-of-the-way north. Meanwhile, the German army could push into Holland while Mussolini landed in the Balkans.

So the Allied diplomats showed Foreign Minister Ciano how his ruse had failed. They pointed out that the British had handled the Norwegian fracas without sending a single ship out of the Mediterranean, and that the naval forces facing Italy were just as strong as before.

They also pointed out that the British navy had used its older vessels in Norway, had not weakened the main fleet, which still stood off the coast of Holland awaiting the expected attack from Germany.

Finally, Ciano was told that the British had successfully landed troops in Norway and still had 200,000 men in reserve to help Holland in case of attack.

There were also some very frank warnings to Ciano that Italy would be considered a belligerent if Mussolini landed in the Balkans.

This cold-steel fact portrayal seemed to make a definite impression on Count Ciano. How much it affected his father-in-law, the Allied diplomats had no way of knowing. Mussolini now sees no diplomats in Rome except the German ambassador. Allied diplomats are barred. Not even U. S. Ambassador William Phillips has seen Mussolini in recent months.

Note—The Allied strategy hinted to Ciano is a French advance through the Alps into north Italy—the minute Mussolini sticks his nose into the war.

Two Oldest Men.

GRIM-VISAGED, bachelor Justice McReynolds was 78 last February 3. Although still sturdy in health, he is looking forward impatiently to the adjournment of court next month and the four-months summer vacation.

Sometimes the justice admits that he is a bit weary and his feet drag as he walks, but toward the New Deal he is as fierce and unrelenting as ever. There is no droop in his enmity.

An old friend recently inquired if he was considering retiring, remarking that he had been on the bench a long time (26 years) and "deserved a rest."

"Yes, I have thought of retiring," reflected McReynolds. "I've thought about it off and on for some time." Then, throwing up his head and with eyes flashing, he snapped. "But I'll never quit as long as that man is in the White House. NEVER!"

Note—Last fall, when members of Chief Justice Hughes' family, worried over his health, urged him to retire, he told them in effect that he was determined to stick it out until after the 1940 election.

Merry-Go-Round.

MEMBERS of the German embassy, apparently none too enthusiastic over Hitler's treatment of private property, are buying up quantities of silver plate at U. S. jewelry stores. This is one investment they can keep with less danger of Nazi confiscation. . . . Reason Max Lowenthal was barred from being secretary of the senate committee to investigate wire-tapping was because he was suspected of inspiring the wire-tapping criticism of J. Edgar Hoover. . . . One member of the German embassy staff confided at dinner the other night that he was worried over Germany's loss of ships, because now perhaps Hitler wouldn't have enough ships to land troops in England. . . . Perhaps remembering Bob Taft's too-hurried Gridiron speech last year, Senator Arthur Vandenberg spent three weeks writing his. It was rated one of the most humorous in years.

Bombing Bill White.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT scored a neat one on his old friend William Allen White, the sage of Emporia, Kansas, during his off-the-record session with the newspaper editors recently at the White House.

Incidentally, the remark was a clue to what Roosevelt thinks is the chief danger to the United States—Nazi forces in Latin America.

The president was talking about the war and the question of national defense, especially as it applied to the Western Hemisphere. To illustrate his point, he turned suddenly to Mr. White, who was sitting in the group before him.

"For instance, Bill White may think he's a lot safer in Kansas than I am up in Hyde Park, N. Y.," said the president, "but he isn't."

He went on to explain that if enemy bombers were to seek out Hyde Park they would have a long way to fly across the Atlantic. But if they wanted to bomb Bill White in Kansas, it was relatively easy for them to fly up from Mexico where enemy air bases could be established.

Dewey and Taft.

SCRAPPY TOM DEWEY may not have known it, but he beat Bob Taft by exactly 24 hours in his challenge to battle it out for delegates in Maryland.

For some weeks Taft had been advised not to enter the Maryland primary, but was inclined to ignore that advice. Finally he sent Forrest Davis, his ace news counselor, to make a quiet survey of the state.

Davis reported that there was a lot of Taft sentiment in Maryland, but that the Republican party was engaged in a fierce factional feud from which Taft should keep aloof. So he urged the senator to keep out.

This report was given Taft in a four-hour session at a down-town hotel. The argument dragged on during dinner, with nothing decided but with Taft still inclined to make the Maryland fight. Finally it was agreed to reach a decision next day.

But as the Taft party left the hotel they picked up early editions of the morning papers announcing Dewey's entrance in the Maryland primary, and his challenge to other candidates to do him battle.

Freshman Senator.

GRAY-THATCHED Republican Clyde Reed, freshman Kansas Senator, is popular among his colleagues but that doesn't prevent them from throwing a haymaker at him now and then.

Reed is inclined to partisan sharpshooting, and none takes keener delight in squelching him than Texas' razor-tongued Tom Connally. Tom was making a speech the other day on the foreign situation when Reed almost bowled him off his feet with the remark, "Unusual as it sounds, I find myself in complete agreement with the gentleman."

"In that case," shot back Connally, "there is good ground for me to doubt the soundness of my position."

Conserving Mary

(A FARMER'S DIARY)

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

I SAW the farmer and his wife in town three different Saturdays. His hundred-acre farm is twenty miles south and I know him well.

The first time was in a market. She had brought her eggs and he carried them into the store. A nicer crate of big white eggs I never saw, and the dealer smiled when he opened it. Four customers were waiting to purchase eggs before they left the spot.

Last Saturday I saw him waiting near the rear of a department store where his wife was looking at some dresses. Today I met him in an implement dealer's and remarked that he did not have his "better half" along.

"No," he said, giving me a large, rough-fingered hand that had a splendid grip of wholesome meaning. "She don't like to come along with me here—she says I stay too long. She's over at the library looking at some new magazines."

"Do you come to town every Saturday?"

"Well, yes—we aim to. All week the six children are at school, and Mary has to pack lunches, wash and iron and cook and mend. Sometimes when I sit in the kitchen and read the paper, I can't help thinkin' her workin' hours are a third more'n mine. And then besides, she's always nursing or comforting some of the kids. Whenever I find something good, I read it to her—Mary likes to read, whenever she gets time. When the kitchen table's cleared off after supper, we both feel kinda proud to see the kids sit around it at their home work. Even the four-year-old looks at pictures until his curly head falls over into his book."

"That's a splendid picture of a farm home and family," I told him.

"I hope so. Of course we can't give 'em all the things we'd like to, but a good home and enough to eat and wear and plenty of chores to do is what we aim at. And even in zero weather I've taken Mary to town every Saturday—just to get her away from where she's tied all week. I'm outside, and I often have errands at the neighbors but she don't get to see many folks, and Saturday's the only day the kids are home to take care of things.

"It does Mary a world of good! Things at home look better to us both, when we've been away. The land's hilly but after all it feeds us, and at this time of year, with the birds back from the south and the streams running and the wild flowers comin' out—our quiet home is the best place in the world to be."

"Will you go to town every Saturday in summer too?" I asked him.

"Yes—it's a steady date." He laughed and added hesitantly, "I don't mind tellin' you, because you'll understand the most important thing I have is Mary. She came into my life when I was 18 and when I was 21 we were married. She's the only girl I ever kissed—or wanted to."

After more beer, the officer said his battalion was in the Oslo-fjord for four days before it marched ashore.

(It had been reported that at Narvik and other points Germans had hidden for days, even for weeks, aboard iron ore and other ostensibly peaceful German merchantmen, and on the occupation day donned uniforms, took up arms and joined the German warships in landing operations.)

The officer expressed belief that Germany would not invade Sweden.

"If Germany had had designs on Sweden, she would have attacked it first. We know that Sweden is stronger than Norway, and now Sweden has had time to prepare we realize that it would be difficult for our armed forces to penetrate their frontiers.

"But if we were ordered to attack we would all stand hand to hand in battle."

CHAPTER XXV

Betty's words trailed off into a whoop of joy as the kitchen lights suddenly flickered out. Elaine glanced about curiously as a loud clap of thunder reverberated overhead. The storm was a fierce one if it could impair electrical service in the city.

She reached out and grasped Betty's shoulder as the girl's figure loomed darkly before her. "Clara!" she said worriedly. "She'll be scared stiff."

Betty nodded and together they felt their way out of the kitchen and down the hall. Clara's fear of lightning could make her do strange things. Before they had taken more than a few steps the lights came back on again and Elaine smiled thankfully.

"Probably just a short circuit in the powerhouse," Betty remarked, opening the living-room door.

* * *

Elaine heard Betty's sharp indrawn gasp as she opened the door. Fearful for Clara, Elaine peered into the living-room, her eyes flashing to the couch on which Clara had been sitting. Suddenly her heart seemed to stop beating, suddenly a wave of anger, disgust, hatred, swept over her. Clara was moving away now, her cheeks scarlet, and Eric was straightening his tie—but she had seen them, seen them locked in a tight embrace, Eric's lips pressed down on hers, Clara answering kiss with kiss!

A low moan tore from Elaine's lips as she sagged against the doorway. So Betty had guessed correctly. Clara was in love with Eric—and he was in love with her. What a fool she had been, what a blind, stupid creature she was not to have guessed this sooner! Of course that explained Eric's behavior on the long walk through the storm. He was in love with Clara—her best friend!

Friend? So that was the kind of girl Clara was—she didn't even have the decency to wait until she was out of the house before she tried to steal the man she loved.

Had loved! As she walked slowly down the hall and got her raincoat, Elaine realized that she was through with Eric. As Jane had said, he was no good. He was just a handsome boy with loads of money, but without character. She would never see him again.

Never!

"Are you a singer or a dying woman?" Monticelli's voice boomed. "Are you getting high-hat because of your radio position or did some one kill your best friend? Tell me! Tell me what's been bothering you! You are not singing, you are shrieking—all this whole week you've been shrieking. I won't have it! I'd cut your throat before I'd let you ruin it. In heaven's name, Elaine Warburton, what's wrong?"

Beside himself with rage, Monticelli slammed the lid of the piano shut and leaped from the stool. His eyes were like fiery probes as he searched Elaine's tense, strained face.

"Nothing is wrong, Mr. Monticelli," Elaine told him with a tired sigh. "Perhaps it's just because I am a little tired. I haven't been sleeping so well lately."

He wagged his leonine head slowly from side to side and his eyes held a triumphant glitter. "You, my dear, are lying to me. Every one lies to the great Monticelli, but they don't get away with it. I know the truth when it is told to me, and I know a lie when I hear one. Is this radio job worrying you—is it making you nervous?"

"I'm not going to sing over the radio," Elaine informed him quietly. She moved listlessly across the room and sank into a chair. "Yesterday I went over to the Blanchard store and told Mr. Blanchard that he would have to get some one else for his program."

"And what else happened?" he queried shrewdly. "You are not telling me all. And you must tell me all if I am to help you."

"There isn't anything else," Elaine said stiffly, feeling her cheeks burn. "I did have an argument with Clara but that hasn't affected me at all."

Monticelli sniffed and stalked across the room for a chair. His eyes were compassionate as he sat down close beside her and the gruffness was gone from his voice.

"Now tell me all about it. It must have been a pretty serious thing or you would never have quarreled with Clara. You like her and she likes you; as a matter of fact, she likes you so much that she has volunteered to pay for your lessons with me."

Surprised, Elaine reached out and laid a skeptical hand on his. "Clara offered to pay for my lessons? But when, Mr. Monticelli? She never said anything about it to me."

He shrugged his shoulders. "We will not change the subject, if you please. Why in heaven's name can't you women stick to a subject long enough to make sense? Are all women crazy? Ha! But of course they are. What did you fight about?"

Elaine looked straight into his eyes. Her chin jutted out into a stubborn line and she squared her shoulders defiantly. "I will not discuss that with any one, Mr. Monticelli. But if you must know why I've acted strangely of late I'll tell you. I'm—I'm not going to marry Eric."

* * *

There, he had the information he wanted. He could laugh now. She wouldn't care. Once before she had cared when he commented teasingly about her romance. But that was before she learned just what type of person Eric was. That was before her heart had been broken. Yes, he could laugh now. It wouldn't hurt her. Nothing was ever going to hurt her again.

But strangely enough, Monticelli did not laugh. His eyes were warm and filled with sympathy and the consoling hand he placed on hers was tender and compassionate. "And of course," he said in a strange tone of voice, "you think your heart has been broken—that life will never mean anything more to you."

Elaine shook her head decisively from side to side and turned her eyes back to his. The hardness of her voice, when she spoke surprised even herself, but then, that wasn't so unusual; she had been surprised so much of late.

"I'm going to become a great singer, Mr. Monticelli, from now on I'm going to have nothing to do with any one. Clara took Eric from me; she didn't have any mercy or any feeling of kindness concerning me. She wanted him and she took him. That's the way people get ahead in this world. If they want something they take it, regardless of the suffering they inflict upon others. From now on I'm going to be hard and merciless. Life will mean a lot to me from now on. Up until a week ago I was just a naive young girl whose head was filled with pretty ideas of love. Well, all that is changed—forever!"

Monticelli nodded his head, a dreamy look in his eyes. "Yes, the young always say that, Elaine Warburton. They toy with emotions they know nothing about. Usually they are hurt and then they swear that from then on they're going to be the ones who do the hurting. You know, even I said that once. I, the great Monticelli!"

"And look at you," Elaine remarked crisply. "You're one of the most successful singing teachers in the world. You have position, money, and you've learned so much that no one will ever hurt you again."

He shook his head vigorously and stood up. "No, Elaine, I have all those things in spite of all my talk about being hard." He looked at her shrewdly. "Come! I think it would be well for me to show you something."

* * *

Elaine followed him out of the studio and up a flight of steep, dark stairs, wondering just what he had in mind. It would be something different at any rate, but no matter what he planned to tell or show her she wouldn't change her mind. From now on she wasn't going to let people run her; she was going to run them!

She looked curiously about as he unlocked the door at the top of the stairs and followed him inside. A surprised gasp came from her lips as he stalked to the center of the room and pointed at the tanks of tropical fish which ran the entire length of the room. So this was his secret hobby! (Desperately she fought to control and stifle the laugh that welled up in her throat. Fish!

ACROBATS AND CLOWNS ROMP TONIGHT AT 'Y'

High-Diving Dogs, Specialty Numbers to Be Given on Circus Opening Night.

Circus clowns will romp, acrobats will strut their stuff and other Mansfield amateur talent will exhibit their prowess tonight when the circus "big top" opens in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium for a two-day run.

The circus, the first to be staged at the "Y" in more than ten years, is being sponsored by the Phalanx fraternity and is expected to draw some 300 persons opening night.

Twenty acts comprise the show which lasts two hours. Like all circuses the show will open with a grand march with all performers taking part. Two bands will play. The grand march begins at 8 p. m., headed by Richard Huffman, ringmaster.

Heading the acts will be William Dufiner of Ontario and his high-diving trick dogs. Tumbling acts will be staged by the Friendly Indians gym class while members of the Pioneer and Senior high gym classes have arranged several variety acts.

Dancing, acrobatic and eccentric numbers will be presented by students from the Margaret Speas and Marty Hogan dance studios. Appearing in a special number will be the Accordionettes from Smart's studio.

Gives Specialty Number.

Adding an "old timers" touch to the program will be the Phalanx fraternity and Beta Kappa Tau sorority who will combine to stage a specialty number woven around a "barber shop" quartet.

Hi-Y club members will put on grease paint and make-up and furnish the clown numbers. Smart's accordion band and a band made up of junior high school students of the "Y" will play during the show.

The entire program will be staged under the direction of Don Cram, "Y" physical director, assisted by Vernon Smeltzer, circus chairman.

NOT ALL GRAVY

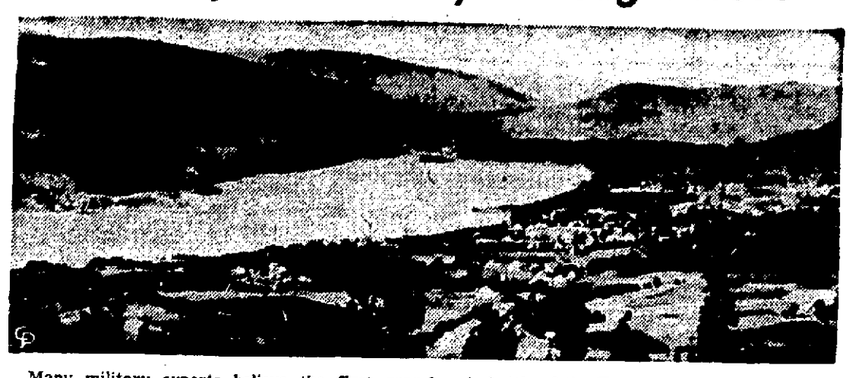
Bank Gives Him the Account But It Didn't Bear Interest.

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—(AP)—Every silver lining can have its dark cloud.

J. M. Walker's telephone rang. "Jim, we've got $150 of your money on deposit," a bank's teller said. "It's been here 22 years." Walker didn't remember it, but he got the money, spent it. The sad part was that the account was non-interest bearing.

PRINCETON, N. J. —(U.P.)— Identical twins have co-captained Princeton University's freshman ice hockey team to a successful season. They are William M. and James R. Sloan, who co-captained Phillips Academy at Exeter before entering Princeton.

First Major Battle May Be Fought Here



Many military experts believe the first grand scale battle of the European war may take place before Lillehammer, a view of which is shown above. At Lillehammer the Gudbrandsdal valley spreads into the southern plain. Allied columns must debouch from this valley in their advance toward the German-held Norwegian capital of Oslo. Lillehammer is 60 miles north of Oslo.

HUNTERS TRICK CROWS.

EATON, O. —(U.P.)— Members of the Twin Valley Rod and Gun club, adopting a Finnish military technique, have been wearing white costumes during snowy weather on crow hunts. Secretary Jess Myers said a campaign of one yielded more than 1,000 crows.

DR. F. M. EDWARDS' DISCOVERY FOR CONSTIPATION

Benefits Nation of Sufferers!

COLUMBUS, OHIO: For over 20 years Dr. F. M. Edwards (widely known physician) successfully treated scores of patients for constipation and the headaches, lack of energy and mental dullness which often result.

This wise Doctor knew liver bile must flow freely every day into your intestines or fatty foods can't be properly digested and you may become constipated. So he kept this in mind when he perfected his famous Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

Olive Tablets, being purely vegetable, are wonderful, yet they assure gentle, thorough bowel movements and ALSO help stimulate bile flow. Test their goodness TONIGHT! 15¢, 30¢, 60¢.

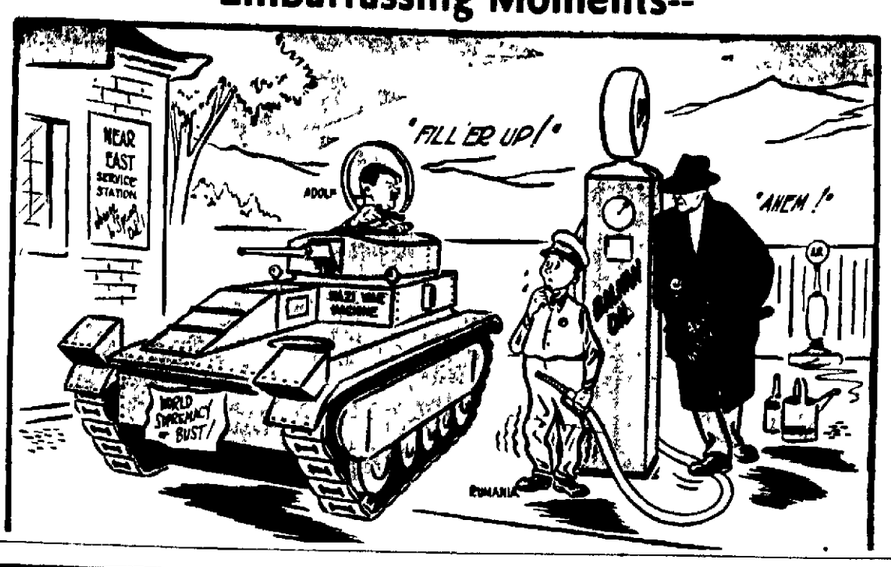
Embarrassing Moments--



Gypsy 'School' For Pickpockets Ended By Police

BELGRADE — (INS) — Gypsies opened a regular 'school for thieves" at Kragujevac, Yugoslavia recently, and trained children as pickpockets with the help of a dummy

Under the disguise of 'Lulac Circus" the gypsies ran a little show with a couple of artists and a 20-year-old transportable film machine but secretly they trained little children in the art of pickpocketing

A wooden dummy, to which small bells were attached, served as "training grounds." The children had to extract things from the pockets of the dummy without making the bells tinkle. After sufficient training they were sent to town to pickpocket the population.

Franjo Lukas, the owner of the "circus" charged the children two months' 'good fees" in the shape of their entire thefts Thereafter they were permitted to work "on their own"

The police finally caught several of the boys and arrested Lulac and his gang.

France Unlikely to Agree to New Italian Demands

STAND TAKEN FOR DEFENSE OF ALL LANDS

Mussolini Believed Starting Battle of Nerves Over Mediterranean.

(Editor's Note: Italy's terms for preservation of peace in the Mediterranean, outlined yesterday in an exclusive International News Service Rome dispatch, met almost instant rejection by competent authorities in London and Paris today. The following dispatch from Kenneth Downs, chief Paris correspondent of International News Service, clearly sets forth the French viewpoint toward territorial concessions to Italy.)

By KENNETH DOWNS
(INS Staff Correspondent)

PARIS—"Not one inch of French territory."

Former Premier Edouard Daladier made this ringing declaration at Algiers on January, 1939, while surrounded by the flower of the French army in Africa. It was voiced in answer to Italian claims far less sweeping than those outlined in Rome yesterday.

Daladier repeated this statement as the fateful months of 1939 rolled by.

On Sunday, last, France's fiery Corsican minister of marine Cesare Campinchi in an interview with Le Journal said:

"We will never give away the smallest parcel of our empire."

This is the attitude today not only of the government and the army but of the French people.

Italian Desires.

Informed circles believe that yesterday's dispatch from Rome truthfully set forth the exact Italian desires — demilitarization of Malta, Corsica, Bizerte, Suez, Cyprus and Gibraltar, cession to Italy of Djibouti, an adjustment of Italian interests in Tunis and a greater Italian representation on the Suez canal board.

But the best informed circles in Paris believe there is not the slightest chance of their fulfillment.

The Italian problem is one of the most delicate and complicated in Europe. It is especially difficult to discuss from Paris, because the censor automatically blue-pencils any reference to Italy.

But keen neutral observers feel that a show-down may come soon in the event Germany suffers keen reverses in Scandinavia.

See Show-Down.

If things go bad in Norway, neutral observers see the possibility of a German blow against Yugoslavia. Coincidentally, there will be application of heavy pressure on Italy to enter the adventure, with an implied German threat of taking over a territory considered to be in the Italian sphere of influence, plus Nazi control of the Adriatic, if Premier Mussolini declines to come along.

Mme. Genevieve Tabouis, the French commentator, reports that the German general staff wishes to undertake no new military moves until the reich is "assured she has an effective military alliance with another great country."

Observers believe that if the reich holds her own in the north, she will not force the issue yet, permitting Italy to exploit the nuisance value of her claims upon the Allies.

Scout Reports.

For the present, there is reason to be at least slightly skeptical of reports that Italy and Spain are being groomed for war. These stories—there are even rumors that the Condor legion is back in Spain and Italians in the Balearics—originated in Berlin several days ago. They were curiously emphasized just when Premier Paul Reynaud was making a friendly statement about France's willingness to make reasonable adjustments with Spain and Italy regarding Mediterranean problems.

It should always be remembered that nerves are still important weapons of the dictators. When they are really on the eve of action, they are not in the habit of advertising their intentions.

WEDDING SET

ASHLAND—The coming wedding of Miss Betty Jane Scantlebury, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Scantlebury of Ashland, and teacher of French and English at the Ashland high school, to Olive G. Bahl of Cleveland has been announced here.

The couple will be married June 29, it was announced.

BUILD CLUBHOUSE

FREMONT — (AP) — Fremont yachtsmen scheduled an elaborate program of summer events today following award of a contract for construction of a new $10,000 clubhouse. The Fremont yacht club's new home will be located a mile north of the city on a 1,200-foot frontage along the Sandusky river.

DRIVER FINED

BUCYRUS—Pleading guilty to a charge of speeding, Clarence L. Auck of near Bucyrus was fined $10 and costs Wednesday at his arraignment here before Mayor William F. Whitcamire. Police Captain Wilbur Kennedy said Auck was traveling between 65 and 70 miles an hour through the residential district.

SPRING CONCERT

Liederkranz Stages Annual Musical Event, Dance Saturday.

The Mansfield Liederkranz will stage its annual spring concert and dance Saturday night in Germania hall, Fourth and Main streets.

Included on the program is a one-act operetta, "Die Wilde Toni" by the Liederkranz players, directed by Paul Wolf, selections by the mens', ladies' and mixed choruses, the Akron singers "Freiheit," and special orchestral numbers.

The entertainment is open to the public.

MISSION GROUP DINES TONIGHT

200 Expected for Dinner at Brethren Church, Scene of District Convention.

A dinner for members of the Otterbein Guild at 8 p. m. in the United Brethren church will highlight today's session of the 53rd annual convention of the Women's Missionary association of the east Ohio branch of the United Brethren church.

About 200 girls from this district are expected to attend. Miss Jane Gilbert of Dayton, secretary of the Otterbein guild, will be guest speaker.

Annual election of district officers was to head this afternoon's session. New officers will be installed tomorrow afternoon, the final day.

Rev. Peter Wong who was the opening speaker last night, also addressed the delegates this afternoon. His subject was "The Conflict in the Far East." This morning the 350 delegates and visitors took part in a communion service conducted by Rev. James L. Boyer, pastor of the church, and a memorial service in honor of members who died during the past year.

Dr. Mable I. Silver, medical missionary from Africa, and Miss Gilbert are the principal speakers for the Friday morning session. Mrs. C. J. McGee of Rittman, district president, is in charge of all meetings.

American Skipper Saved Fortune In Trondheim Escape

NEW YORK — (AP) — A hard-bitten skipper, back in the safety of American waters, disclosed today that he fled the port of Trondheim, Norway, with a fortune of $4,500,000 in gold hidden in the hold of his ship, the 4,955-ton American Scantic line freighter Mormacsea, after the Germans had captured the port.

The skipper was Capt. William McHale, who served with the British mine-sweeping forces in the World war and was four times decorated for bravery.

McHale revealed that a skeleton force of about 500 Germans seized Trondheim in a pre-dawn raid April 9 and walked in unmolested."

The Mormacsea was the first vessel to reach the United States from the Scandinavian war zone since hostilities broke out there. Two other American ships are still there.

160 AT DINNER

Oil Company's Dealers Feted At Sales Meeting.

About 160 Canfield Oil company dealers from Mansfield, Elyria and Bucyrus were guests of the company at the annual sales meeting and dinner held recently at the Fairway on the Mansfield-Galion road.

Talks were given by A. D. Bailey, A. C. Ellinger and A. H. Wagner, all of the Cleveland office. A boxing exhibition by 10 boys from the Friendly House and motion pictures were included on the program. Charles A. Beard, district manager, was in charge of arrangements.

GO TO CAPITAL

3 From Mansfield to Attend U. S. Chamber Meeting.

Three members of the Mansfield Chamber of Commerce will go to Washington next week to attend the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Those who will leave Mansfield, Sunday evening to be in the capital for the four-day session are Henry L. Goemann, the Mansfield chamber's national councillor; W. H. G. Kegg and C. H. Keating.

The session will be highlighted Tuesday evening by an address by General Charles G. Dawes of Chicago, former vice president and former ambassador to England, who will speak on "The Next President and the Budget."

DEMAND ACTION

Natchez Residents Move to Prevent Fire Hazards.

NATCHEZ, Miss. —(INS)— Natchez citizens today demanded precautions against recurrence of such a disaster as a revised count of bodies taken from the Rhythm night club fire placed the death toll at approximately 200 Negros.

The victims, attending a dance, were burned and suffocated to death Tuesday night when a lightning-fast fire engulfed the one-story frame structure, with only one exit and the windows boarded up, in which they were celebrating.

Previous counts had given somewhat higher death tolls, but it was explained there had been some duplications. The latest count of bodies gave 198 dead, all colored. Many were still unidentified. Most of them were from Natchez, Ferriday, Ya., or Lafayette, Miss.

Nine members of the Walter Barnes Negro orchestra, from Chicago, were among the dead.

The fire was believed to have started when a lighted match was tossed into the dance hall decorations. No inquest was planned.

FELL SHORT

CROOKSVILLE —(U.P.)— A game of cowboys and Indians with three companions led to the death of Donald Lauderback, jr., 10.

He jumped from one roof to another while playing at a Ceramic company here last evening and dropped 16 feet.

MAY HOLD CEREMONIES

SHELBY—If weather is favorable the ground breaking ceremonies for the $4,000 Girl Scout lodge will be held at 3 p. m. Sunday, Girl Scout officials revealed today.

SIMPSON TIMES WINS HONORS FOR 13TH CONSECUTIVE YEAR

Maintaining the high standard it established when organized in 1927, the John Simpson Times, student newspaper at John Simpson junior high school, for the 13th consecutive year has again been awarded All-American honors by the National Scholastic Press association of the University of Minnesota, it was announced here today.

The Times received an All-American honor rating of "superior," the highest rating given by the association. It received 800 out of a possible 1,000 points, according to Edwin Fensch, editorial advisor.

Six publications in the United States, entered in the monthly division of commercially printed papers, and published by schools having an enrollment of between 500 and 900, were given the same rating, Fensch said.

Issues published during the 1938-39 school year and four copies of papers published during the 1939-40 year, were judged in the 1940 contest. Scores received by the Times are, news values and sources, 195 out of 250; news writing, 215 out of 280; headlines and makeup, 200 out of 250, and departments and features, 190 out of 220.

According to the official scoring received by Fensch, the paper was complimented on the amount of advertising it carries and on its feature stories.

Ruth Blumenschein is editor-in-chief of the Times, and Frederick Morey served as editor last year. Charles Bancroft is business manager. Miss Margaret DeWitt assists Fensch as editorial advisor, and Edwin N. Cooper and Miss Katherine Culp are business advisors.

SEMINAR ENDS

Lecturer Concludes Series at Baptist Church Tonight.

A plea for better understanding between parents and their children was given last night by Mrs. Jessie Burrall Eubank, who completes her seminar in creative living at the Park Avenue Baptist church today at 7:30 p. m.

"Creative Joy, to Be Attained Today" was Mrs. Eubank's subject this afternoon, and at the 7:30 p. m. session today "Increasing Our Substance" will be the subject.

The seminar in creative living was sponsored by the women's union of the church of which Mrs. Wallace Campbell is president.

Musical numbers were given by a quartet composed of James Keith, Paul Seifert, Frederick Jackson and Fred Sutcliffe. They were accompanied by Lawrence S. Frank.

THREE DIE IN AIR COLLISION

Army Officials Open Probe of Plane Crash at Dallas.

DALLAS, Texas — (U.P.) — Army officials sought today to determine how two training planes crashed in mid-air, killing two army flying cadets and a civilian instructor.

The dead: James S. Clinch, 21, Chisholm, Minn., Solomon D. Moon, 21, Gainesville, Fla., and T. J. Richards, 32, Dallas, instructor. Moon was on a solo flight.

The victims were from a flying school operated by civilians under contract with the army to furnish basic instruction to cadet flyers under the national air expansion program.

CANDIDATES ON STATE TICKET HERE TONIGHT

Republican Aspirants Appear at Dinner; White to Be in City Tomorrow.

County Republicans will officially get their campaign under way tonight with a rally sponsored by the women's organization at party headquarters where a number of candidates are scheduled to speak briefly.

The G. O. P. meeting will launch a series of personal appearances of state and national candidates and rallies for both parties in Mansfield during the remaining 18 days before the May 14 primary.

Former Governor George White of Marietta, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, is expected in Mansfield about 10 a. m. tomorrow to confer with party leaders.

At Cleveland, Charles Hubbell, candidate for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor, today had launched a write-in campaign for Senator Vic Donahey for the nomination for governor. Donahey has announced he will retire from politics at the end of his term in the senate.

Congressman Dudley White of Norwalk, seeking the Republican nomination for U. S. senator, will be the principal speaker at tonight's G. O. P. meeting. Others who are scheduled to speak are P. H. Rogers and Joseph Jameson, candidates for state senator from the 27th-29th district; R. R. Bangham, candidate for state auditor, and Judge H. W. Jewell, seeking the nomination for a place on the Ohio supreme court.

The meeting will follow a dinner at 6:30 p. m. Arrangements are in charge of Mrs. Carl Spangler, head of the county Republican women's organization.

Announce Davey to Speak.

The colored Davey-for-Governor committee announced today that former Governor Martin L. Davey and a number of other Democratic candidates will speak at a rally next Wednesday night at 211½ North Diamond street.

The meeting will be in charge of the committee of colored Democratic voters, headed by Mose Haynes. Democratic party leaders in the county said they knew nothing of it.

Scheduled to appear with Davey, according to the committee, are State Auditor Joseph Ferguson, seeking re-election; Clarence Knisley, candidate for state treasurer; George Nye, candidate for attorney general; Francis Durbin, candidate for congressman-at-large; Rufus Johnson, president of the Colored Democratic club at Newark, and John Cobb, Cleveland.

CAT HONORED

COLUMBUS —(AP)— The Ohio State Persian club will award a memorial cup to Georgette, a cat which lost its nine lives in awakening six persons during a fire. The cup will go to the cat's owners, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Fowler of Austintown.

BUCYRUS — Probate court: Letters testamentary issued to George Dustman as executor of the estate of Edwin Hough.

G. E. Dill of Galion appointed administrator of the estate of J. H. and Margaret Dill and letters of administration issued.

AT 'VICTORY DINNER'

Three representatives from the R. E. Moorhead, Ford agency, were guests of the Ford Motor company at a "victory dinner" held at Hotel Hollenden in Cleveland recently. Attending were R. E. Moorhead, B. H. Wagner and Rex Bell. The dinner was given in recognition of sales results made during February and March.

REPORT SAYS BLACK POWDER CAUSED BLAST

Bureau of Mines Asserts Ohio Disaster Resulted From Unsafe Practice.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON—The bureau of mines said today that a charge of black blasting powder, considered unsafe by the bureau, ignited coal dust to cause an explosion at the Willow Grove coal mine, Neffs, O., which killed 72 men on March 16.

"The explosion was caused by the firing of a shot of black pellet powder stemmed with 'bug dust' (fine coal and coal dust) which ignited a cloud of coal dust, in which gas may or may not have been present," the bureau reported. "The explosion was propagated throughout the affected area by coal dust which was raised in suspension by the initial blast.

"The use of black powder is a hazard in any coal mine.

"Use of black blasting powder has been condemned by the bureau for many years and some states prohibit its use."

The report said that a blasting shot had been fired immediately prior to the explosion and that an analysis of scrapings taken from the shot hole showed that black powder was used in an "excessive amount."

The bureau made the following recommendations for the Willow Grove mine:

"1. That the mine be operated as a gassy mine and proper precautions taken.

"2. Certain changes should be made in the ventilation system, including replacing of all haulage ways on intake air.

33. Abandoned or worked out sections of the mine should be sealed off.

"4. The use of black blasting powder should be discontinued.

"5. Permissible explosives should be used and only competent shot firers should be permitted to handle them. Only one day's supply of explosives should be kept underground.

"6. Water should be used on mining machines, loading machines, and on loaded and empty cars to allay coal dust. All working places should be kept thoroughly wetted.

"7. Proper rock dusting should be used.

"8. Electrical equipment used at or near the face of workings should be of the permissible type.

"9. Selected employes should be given training in the use and care of oxygen breathing apparatus and in rescue and in recovery operations."

O.K.—LET'S TALK PRICE!

If you're buying that way this year—let's forget the fun you find in a Nash and just compare it dollar for dollar with cars in its class.

Nash is bigger and better built—the only car with the thrilling smoothness of that Arrow-Flight Ride . . . the Convertible Bed . . . the terrific pick-up of a Manifold Sealed engine (yes—a class winner in the 1940 Gilmore-Yosemite Run with 23.76 miles per gallon).

The extra value Nash gives you in finer engineering . . . in 300 pounds more weight than the small cars (for extra comfort and safety)—means higher resale value years from now.

Come in—drive a 1940 Nash today—the biggest new car value in town!

MANSFIELDERS TO PERFORM AT NEW YORK FAIR

22 From Westinghouse Will Operate Electric Iron Assembly Line.

Twenty-two men and women from Mansfield will have a part in this year's edition of the New York World's fair

They are from the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company and will operate an electric iron assembly line in full view of the visiting public. They will assemble the irons, which include 109 individual parts, make operation tests and pack them for delivery.

The corps of workers from Mansfield will make 600 irons a day. Daily production at the plant here totals some 5,000 irons

Though it is only a "little brother" of the main iron assembly line in the plant here the World's fair unit will be 50 feet long and will contain 25,228 separate parts. The gigantic steel skeleton of the apparatus will work just as efficiently as a regular factory unit.

Expert men and women workers from the Mansfield plant will be on their regular jobs, building, testing and inspecting the irons They will move to the fair for the season, and when they return to Mansfield, will work on the same assembly line, which will be dismantled and then reconstructed in Mansfield in the Fall, it was announced.

How They're Made.

As first step in assembly of the electric iron, the welder makes a metal "sandwich" in which the heating element is the filler The base is below it and the clamp plate above The parts are joined under 50 tons pressure. The irons then move on a conveyor belt out of the welder's cage past deft-fingered young women, who attach parts such as handles, terminal brackets, control handles, covers and handle covers

The girls use a set of five electric screwdrivers, each with its own small motor, counterbalanced and easily handled. Each reaches overhead to take down parts as needed from a 68-foot conveyor belt, which travels a rectangular route from behind the scenes.

The completed irons then move along the testing section Tiny buzzers buzz and lights flash, signalling information to experienced girl inspectors

The girls hang the irons, which are now hot, on the 118 hooks of an overhead conveyor to cool. Moving slowly through an air-cooled tunnel and visible all the way through windows the irons travel 118 feet The 236 minute cooling journey over a worker takes the irons down, shines them carefully on a buffing wheel, and packs them in cartons

To keep cats and dogs away from evergreens spray the plantings with a diluted solution of nicotine sulphate The spray is harmless to the shrubbery

Where Mansfielders Will Work at N. Y. Fair

Suggestive of the skeleton of some prehistoric monster is this steel structure under construction in the Westinghouse building at the World's fair in New York. It is the framework for ar assembly line on which 600 Westinghouse electric irons a day will be produced as fair spectators look on. The assembly line apparatus has 25,228 separate parts and is 50 feet long. The line will be operated by 22 men and women from the Mansfield Westinghouse plant.

Science Wants to Know What Makes Good Pilot Tick

DENVER—(AP)—Medical science still seeks an answer to the question of "what makes a good airplane pilot tick?"

"Is a tall, husky man a better pilot than a short, slender man?" asked Dr. Michael L. Mason of the Northwestern University Medical School at a Denver medical meeting.

"Is one type of man better qualified to fly at an altitude of 25,000 feet than another man? I suppose some of the answers will be obtained through the trial and error method."

He said the answers would simplify the problem of the Army Air Corps, which examines applicants for army flying jobs

Occasionally, a man will pass the most rigid physical examination, do brilliant work in the ground school and then "flunk the course" when he takes to the air simply because he can't stand flying.

Irish Blarney Took Some Fast Thinking Here

BUTTE, Mont. — (AP) — Defendants O'Callaghan and O'Keefe were charged with vagrancy.

"Guilty, yer honor," said O'Callaghan with Dublin accent

"I'm a bum by trade and I've roamed the world and never a better town than Butte have I seen It's the finest in the land and the people are the finest outside of Ireland, Your Honor, sir"

"It looks like you're trying to talk yourself into staying here about 30 or 60 days," said Judge Louis Buckley, scratching his chin.

"No, Judge, Your Honor," said O'Callaghan. "I've had my fun and I'll be on my way. Let somebody else enjoy this fine town."

O'Keefe said the same sentiments were his, too.

Defendants O'Callaghan and O'Keefe went their way.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood If they help most people pass about 3 pints a day

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights swelling puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

You'll be No. 1 in the Hit Parade!

Look at Buick First...you can afford it and you can't know what your 1940 money ought to buy until you've seen this really modern automobile.

YES sir, something pretty special happens when you turn the ignition switch, and drive away for the first time in your very own 1940 Buick.

In that little act, you get a years-long jump on the other fellow. You step out in a car that is not only 1940's biggest news but the pattern for many a season to come.

Style? Just look the others over and see how they mirror the trend Buick began a good twelve months ago!

Size? Just try to find a car as long as Buick, bumper to bumper, for the same money—or one with a frame as husky and rigid.

Comfort? Performance? Appointments?

No one else on the highway has soft, gentle coil springs all around that never need lubrication, with the steady rolling firmness of torque-tube drive.

No one else gives you a gas-thrifty Dynaflash valve-in-head straight-eight engine, much less a power plant electro-balanced after assembly.

No one else has a Two-Way Direction Signal with automatic cut-off—or standard equipment so complete that even a lock for the gas tank is included in the price.

The Buick SPECIAL 4-door touring sedan $996

And with the whole range of Buick's six dozen 1940 features you'll be No. 1 in the automotive hit parade, leading the way in a car that will still be full of big news many a season hence.

You'll be driving a Buick, staunch and solid in its tested metal, fashioned with Buick craftsmen's skill, a car you can count on to keep its value, lose mighty little through either use or depreciation.

And the price? Unbelievable as it sounds, the Buick SPECIAL carries a price lower than some sixes—which spells "buy" in any man's language. Why not learn more from the nearest Buick dealer?

Prices begin at $895 for Business Coupe—Sedan prices start at $935—

*delivered at Flint, Mich. Transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), optional equipment and accessories—extra. Prices subject to change without notice.

LODGE TO MEET.

Members of the Pocahontas lodge will meet tonight in Eagle hall, it was announced this morning.

Routine Meeting Conducted For Plus Ultra Class

Forty members and guests of the Plus Ultra class of the South Main Street Evangelical church met at the church parlors Wednesday evening for a covered-dish dinner. Mrs. Charles Osbun led the devotional period and Harold Mumford presided during the routine business session.

The program consisted of a talk by the pastor, Rev. C. L. Kern, whose topic was "Three Requisites in Choosing a Life Partner"; reading by Ronald Kern; instrumental and vocal music by Marylyn Joyce Teeter, and short talks by the teachers, Mrs. W. G. Herrold and E. N. Moser.

The committee in charge of arrangements was composed of Miss Opal Scott, chairman, Miss Helen Farnham, Miss Helen Groman, Miss Virginia Thrush, and Loren Sauerbrun. The next meeting will be held at the church, May 29.

Mrs. Moore Hostess To Philomathian Club

Mrs. Thornton Moore opened her home on Andover road to members of the Philomathian club last night when Miss Martha King gave the paper on "First Editions." There were 20 members and one guest, Mrs. Howard Peck, present.

Luncheon was served from a table decorated with jonquils and other spring flowers. Mrs. Otis Cummins presided. Mrs. George Reichert, Shelby, will entertain May 8.

Norfolk Island Provides Topic Of Club Program

Letters and anecdotes dealing with remote Norfolk Island were read and told last night by Mrs. Louis J. Ott when she spoke before members of the Mansfield Junior Sorosis at the home of Miss Dorothy Moser, 56 Greenwood avenue. Mrs. Annabelle Derry, instructor in Braille, spoke also and explained the method of training the blind to read.

Mrs. Tom Hoffman and Mrs. J. R. Brubaker were accepted as new members during the business meeting, and plans were made to have the annual spring party and installation of officers at the home of Mrs. W. C. Kramer, 117 Stewart avenue, May 22. The next regular meeting of the club will be May 8 at the home of Mrs. Walter Mickew, Western avenue.

The president, Mrs. A. H. Moellenkamp, and Mrs. L. C. Baumgardner, who attended the state convention in Canton last week, gave their reports.

Cleveland Ballet To Dance May 6

Mansfielders will have an opportunity to celebrate National Music week, May 5 to 11, fittingly May 6 when they attend the concert of the Singers club assisted by the Cleveland Ballet which will be held at the Mansfield Senior high school at 8:15 p. m. Yesterday patron tickets were mailed out to a group of club women, music and civic leaders in the city, and tickets are now available at Tawse's drug store or from members of the club. Patron and reserved seats may be exchanged any time after May 3.

Members of the Cleveland ballet, which is directed by Sergei Popeloff, Cleveland dancing master, will do interpretations of various classical and operatic numbers. In recent years the Ballet has danced with the Cain park group, the Cleveland light opera companies, and on the road. Homer Eldred will be one of the featured dancers for the program.

Engaged Couple Give Party for Attendants

Miss Florence Beer and Jacob Urschel who will be united in marriage Friday evening at 7:30 p. m. at the St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church, entertained members of their bridal party last evening. Following the rehearsal at the church for the open church service, the group motored to the Beer home, Richland avenue, where a social time was enjoyed. Attendants were presented with gifts from the young couple. At a later hour refreshments were served.

Those in the nuptial party are Peter Urschel, best man, brother of the bridegroom; Miss Kitty Jane Birch, maid of honor; Robert Dunn and Dale Beer, the latter a brother of the bride, ushers; Miss Miriam Oswalt, vocalist; Miss Katherine Huber, organist.

NEW INSTANT COLD-WATER SUDS SAVES STOCKING COLOR!
Women everywhere are raving how a new kind of cold-water suds keeps their hosiery colors keener and brighter. Now you can launder all fine things without hot water, because this new laundry suds is not a soap. It is 100 times as soluble as soap in cold water. This amazing new product is called Vel, and Vel has 4 virtues not found in any soap! Vel gives instant suds in cold water. It contains no alkali to fade colors. It can't form soap-scum to cause that cottony after-look. And Vel contains no acid or alkali to irritate your hands. Every woman knows how tough hot water and soap-scum can be on stockings and finer things. But here's thrilling news. Vel, the amazing new cold-water suds perfected by Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Company, does away with these enemies of fine fabrics. Vel is so ideal for all fine fabrics, because it dissolves instantly in cold water to make mountains of billowy, cleansing suds. See your finer things keep their delicate sheerness and fresh color amazingly longer. See how Vel leaves no ring around the bowl proving no ruinous soap-scum can stay in dainty things to cause cottony afterlook. So try Vel, the amazing, instant cold-water suds today. Buy Vel today at any grocer's. Made and guaranteed by Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Company.

Uses for Left-Over Meats

By ALICE LYNN BARRY

What to do with left-over meat? Where to find another topping for that cake? What about a new biscuit or something different in the way of rolls? Those are some of the kitchen problems facing our fair readers. We come to the rescue with what we hope they will find are splendid solutions. Every recipe has been tried and perfected or improved where necessary.

Swedish Dinner Ring is made out of left-over meat or poultry. Make it with one recipe baking powder biscuit dough, two cups cooked meat (ground), tablespoon onion (ground), one pimento (ground) one small green pepper (ground), salt and pepper, meat stock or milk, bacon. Roll out the biscuit dough to one-fourth-inch thickness. Mix meat with seasonings and add enough stock or milk to moisten.

Spread meat mixture on the biscuit dough and roll like a jelly roll. Form into a ring and place on greased baking sheet. With a pair of scissors cut diagonal slashes toward the center, but not quite to the center, at intervals of two inches. Turn the cut section flat on the tin. Place one-half slice of bacon in each slash. Turn oven to 375 degrees F. and bake for about 30 minutes. Serve hot with pimento sauce. To make the sauce use two tablespoons flour, salt and pepper, two tablespoons butter (melted), one cup milk, (scalded), one-third cup pimento, cut very fine. Blend flour and seasonings with the melted butter. Add gradually hot milk. Cook, stirring constantly on low heat, until mixture thickens. Fold in pimentoes.

Vermont Maple Rolls.

Vermont Maple Rolls are made with two cups sifted flour, three teaspoons all-phosphate baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt, four tablespoons shortening. About three-fourths cup milk, two tablespoons butter, one-half cup maple sugar, one-fourth cup chopped nut meats. Sift flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening with two knives or pastry blender. Add milk gradually, stirring until soft dough is formed. Turn on lightly-floured board and knead 15 seconds. Roll in oblong piece one-fourth inch thick. Spread with softened butter and sprinkle with maple sugar and chopped nuts. Roll as for jelly roll and cut in inch-thick slices. Place on greased baking sheet or muffin pans and bake at 400 degrees F. for 15-20 minutes. Makes 10 to 12.

Here's the new topping for that plain, chocolate or devil's food layer cake. It is made with two cups sugar, three-fourths cup double-strength, freshly-made coffee, tablespoon light corn syrup and three tablespoons butter. Cook sugar, coffee and syrup until small amount of mixture makes a soft ball in cold water (234 degrees F.). Add butter. Cool until lukewarm. Beat until creamy. This frosting covers tops of two nine-inch layers.

Date Biscuits.

Juicy dates well hidden behind walls of pastry—how's that for an unique biscuit? Use two cups flour, four teaspoons baking powder, teaspoon salt, four tablespoons shortening, one-half cup milk, two-thirds package pasteurized dates (about 30), teaspoon cinnamon and two tablespoons sugar. Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening wth two knives or pastry blender. Add milk to make easily-handled dough. Roll on well-floured board to one-fourth-inch thickness. Cut in rounds with well-floured cookie cutter. Sprinkle half the round with a little sugar and cinnamon mixture; place a pitted pasteurized date on top; fold and press edges together. Brush with milk or melted butter. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F), for 10 to 15 minutes, or until delicately browned. Makes about 30 biscuits.

WIN PRIZES.

Mrs. Edward Longsdorf, 32 Woodland avenue, was hostess to members of the Wooden Shoe Euchre club Wednesday evening at her home. Two tables were in play with score prizes being won by Mrs. Harold Garn, Mrs. Roy Daugherty and Mrs. Anthony Normant. At a late hour luncheon was served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held May 8 at the home of Mrs. Joseph Distl, East Mansfield.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

"After all," he said, "if it had not been for you, discovering that entrance would have been a most difficult job. Now we know exactly where to look. So in all justice, if you insist, I must permit you to go up there with me."

"That's wonderful of you Chief!" she said enthusiastically. "When do we start?"

He shook a warning finger at her as he answered her question. "Gently! gently!" he said. "We'll go up after a bit. But there are some things I want to find out about this entrance to the house before we go. Let us give our attention to this map first. Will you sit down?"

"If we do we won't be able to see as well," Lillian retorted. "Suppose you sit down, and we sort of cluster round and look over your shoulders. We'll promise not to lean on your or breathe down your neck."

He smiled, as he generally does at her nonsense, and seating himself again, spread a second map on the table before him.

"What do you make of that?" he said after a pause during which Dicky, Lillian and I scanned the ancient document closely.

"You tell him, Madge," Lillian said promptly. "You're more familiar with the interior arrangements of this house than any of us, I think."

"Why!" I said, trying to keep excitement out of my voice and failing, "there must be a spiral, very narrow staircase, leading from the chimney breast down through the wall clear into the cellar, and coming out—let me see—" I traced the course of the staircase with my forefinger, calling up a mental image of the farm house cellar as I did so—"just behind the preserve closet. The wall there is very thick. There must be another door there."

"There probably is," Dicky said. "But they don't need to use it, except to bring men into the cellar, so as to catch us above and below. But this staircase goes on down into a sub-cellar, and then on out into a tunnel somewhere."

"Here's map number three," my father said, spreading it out, "beginning at the tunnel connecting with the sub-cellar. This seems an interminable thing. Where would you say it comes out, Richard?"

Dicky traced the markings with his finger, then looked at my father with amazement in his eyes.

"Interminable is the word, sir," he said. "Also incredible. It runs under the old barn, and there's an opening into the cow stable indicated. The last entrance must be in that almost impenetrable underbrush about two hundred feet from the wood road at the back of the farm, but well out of sight of it."

My father had followed his tracing finger as had Lillian and I, and he gave quick corroboration.

"Yes, that's it," he said, and Lillian exhaled a gusty breath.

"What a set-up for those old lads who built those things!" she exclaimed. "They could emerge from their tunnel or get into it at any one of three or four places."

"It's also a pretty handy set-up for Jack Leslie and his gang," Dicky drawled. "No wonder he felt so sure he could demand the surrender of Mary and Noel.

My father pushed back the papers and rose from his chair.

"Let us go up to the attic now," he said and, tight-lipped, he led the way to the attic stairs.

HOROSCOPE

For Friday, April 26.

RATHER strenuous activities may be expected on this day, judging by the strong lunar and mutual aspects. This will be incident to the breakup of long stagnant or crystallized conditions, or to some other tenacious and thwarting impediments or obstructions. The renewed activity is likely to enjoy the substantial support of employers, superiors or others of solid standing. The effort at stabilization of the affairs and fortunes should not be jeopardized by too impetuous or aggressive methods. Romance may suddenly dominate in the personal life.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year of great enterprise and heightened activity following the breaking up of long static or frustrated circumstances. Old obstacles will fall away to make room for a welcome stabilization of the fortunes and affairs generally. This should have co-operation of superiors or employers who are ready to acclaim industry, fidelity and perseverance. Suppress tendencies to rash or over-impetuous attack. In the private relations romance and emotional excitement loom large and suddenly.

A child born on this day may be endowed with much stability of character and intellect. It may be steadfast, patient and serious, winning the hearty support of its employers, superiors and elders, benefitting greatly thereby.

Filling In Hollow Cheeks

By MME. QUI VIVE

Why fashion artists make their paper ladies look as if they were victims of famine, we can't guess. And those graven images that stand in shop windows flaunting glad apparel! Don't try to look like them.

When a girl's cheeks look like facial caves, makeup won't help a bit; rouge makes her hollow cheeks appear hollower. Perhaps she isn't getting enough nourishing chow. It's not a bad plan, if one is underweight, to have a little session with the family doc, who will check up on weight and measurements. He will suggest a little more butter on the bread, a hot cereal for breakfast, plenty of rich milk, vegetables, broiled meats.

Certain food elements build up the upholstery of the face, the bony structure of which may be long and narrow, causing the cheeks to be flat. Then again one must consider the dour young lady who has made it a practice to pull a long face when life doesn't suit her. Fibers that should be strong go slack. Smiling is a wonderful facial exercise. Lifts the muscles, keeps them at work.

* * *

Singing is a help in developing facial contour. Lift up your voice in song. Yodel, but loudly. Be a vocalist, if the family will stand for it.

Blowing up balloons will strengthen the muscles. Blow like everything. If that idea does not appeal to you, chew gum.

Now for local treatment. We're not saying that oily cosmetics will build tissues; nobody knows precisely and exactly about that idea. But one needs an emollient for the purpose of massage. If you like to mess around in the kitchen, we'll give you a true and tried formula.

For massage cream, melt together one-half ounce of white wax, one-half ounce of spermaceti, one ounce of cocoanut oil, one ounce of lanoline and two ounces of oil of sweet almonds. Remove from the stove, add one ounce of orange flower water to which a few drops of oil of lavender flowers have been added. Fluff with an egg beater until it starts to thicken. Pour into jars.

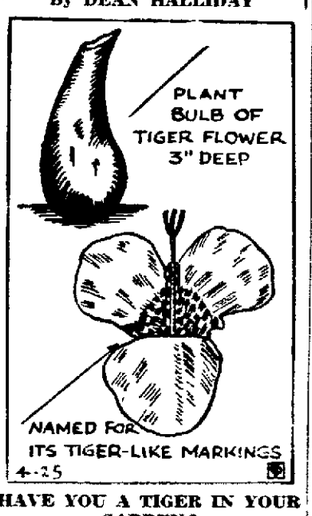
* * *

Spread the cream on a clean skin surface with flattened fingers. Place the fingers and thumbs over the cheeks — thumbs down of course, resting on the jaw bones—pull out the trumpeters muscles with a clawing movement.

Follow with a brisk hammering and tapping. Do five finger exercises. While the cream demains on, apply an ice cube, sending it about in circles with upward pressure.

Garden Graph

By DEAN HALLIDAY



HAVE YOU A TIGER IN YOUR GARDEN?

This may sound like a startling question, but it merely means have you a tiger flower in your garden? If you have it will lend interest to the garden for Tigridia, or the Tiger Flower, has exotic coloring and markings.

This peculiarly marked flower is shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph. The cup-shaped bloom measures six inches in diameter, and grows from 15 to 18 inches in length. The flower, of course, is named for its tigerlike markings. While the flowers last only for one day, they keep coming in quick succession during the blooming period.

The bulb of the Tiger Flower, also shown in the illustration, should not be planted until all danger of frost is past. Plant the bulb three inches deep in good garden soil in a location where it will get lots of sunshine.

In sections of the country where the winters are mild, the Tigridia bulbs can remain in the ground the year around, but in colder climates they need to be lifted each fall and stored away for the winter, receiving the same treatment as gladiolus bulbs.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

RECOGNIZE PROSPERITY

SOME OF us don't know when we are well off, especially at the bridge table. In fact, it is true of all bridge players at one time or another. You find yourself in what proves to have been a very lucky spot, perhaps with your sure-thing contract doubled by the opponents, and then you get overambitious. You redouble, with visions of a lot of extra points, whereupon the opponents are scared into bidding again in their suit. In place of doubling them, to seek a few points for consolation, you bid one more in your suit and get doubled again. But this time you are too high and are set.

If he had merely passed the double of 4-Hearts, South would have collected a nice present from East's high appraisal of his own defensive strength. The greed that led him to seek still more, with a redouble, not only beat him out of any gift at all, but resulted in his presenting 200 points to East.

16 SCIENTISTS to amaze world with great discovery about CONSTIPATION

Tests at world-famous hospital reveal how Nature's own gentle, complete "daily" bowel movements can be produced

Get relief from headaches, indigestion and nervousness due to Constipation. Then feel peppier—keener of mind, brighter eyes.

AFTER months of intensive tests in one of the world's most famous hospitals—16 scientists have discovered sensational facts about an IDEAL "daily" treatment for constipation—

It has been definitely proven one of the chief causes of constipation is lack of moisture in the colon. Waste matter then becomes caked, dry, hard and difficult to move on. Constipation often follows with its headaches, dull eyes, sallow muddy skin, and you "tire easily."

Tests showed that the taking of many cathartics, laxatives, and harsh "roughage" products often made this condition worse.

SUCCESS AT LAST!

But these clever men of science found a way to ACTUALLY PRODUCE NATURE'S OWN GENTLE PLEASANT BOWEL ACTION. Simply take a little daily dose of healthful Kruschen, (world-famous formula), in a glass of water.

Kruschen now comes in effervescent form—sparkling—"bubbling"—and makes a most pleasant tasting drink. Kruschen keeps waste matter in the colon moist and soft and enables it to be gently expelled from the body. No nausea! No griping! No violence! Truly an IDEAL treatment for more gentle, complete "daily" elimination of harmful poisons, acids and waste. ALSO a splendid mild antacid and kidney diuretic. Inexpensive!! Congress Starts Study of Wage-Hour Law Changes

EXEMPTION OF WHITE-COLLAR CLASS URGED

Proposed Bills Would Release Thousands Now Engaged in Handling Farm Goods.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON—The wage-hour law, a subject of bitter controversy since it was first proposed, comes up in the house today for revision.

Leading opponents of the proposed changes — affecting white-collar workers and processors of agricultural commodities — conceded privately that one of the three bills eligible for consideration would be passed by the house.

The bills involved are sponsored by Chairman Mary T. Norton of the house labor committee, Rep. Robert Ramspeck, D., Ga., and Rep. Graham A. Barden, D., N. C. All three are alike in granting exemption from the maximum hours provisions of the present law for better paid white collar workers.

But the Norton and Barden bills differ widely on proposed exemptions for industries associated with agriculture. The Ramspeck bill, introduced in an effort to compromise the fight between the Norton and Barden supporters, does not mention agriculture.

Main Dispute.

The major controversy relates almost entirely to the extent to which workers engaged in handling or processing agricultural commodities should be exempted.

Col. Philip B. Fleming, wage-hour administrator, on April 18, estimated that only 256,000 workers in industries handling agricultural products which affect interstate commerce are exempt from the wage provisions of the law. He estimated that Barden's bill would exempt an additional 928,000 employes in those industries, while Mrs. Norton's would add only 17,000 to the wage exemption list.

He estimated that with 969,000 workers in these industries now exempt from the maximum 42-hour work week, the Barden bill would add another 988,000 to this number, and the Norton bill about 465,000.

Lift Hour Limit.

Both bills would permit white collar workers getting more than the minimum wage to work any number of hours a week, providing they received a monthly wage of either $200 (under the Norton bill) or $150 (under the Barden bill).

The present law requires payment of a minimum wage of 30 cents an hour in industries affecting interstate commerce, and a maximum work week of 42 hours. Several large groups of workers are exempted completely, notably agricultural workers.

'Ark of Juneau' Trip to Alaska Delayed By Law

SEATTLE, Wash.—(U.P.)—The "promised land" of Alaska seemed far away to Paul Stako today because he had to win two legal battles before he could resume his voyage in a homemade ark that seamen said would founder in a strong breeze.

Five of his seven children were in juvenile detention home to protect them from their father's "folly." Stako was charged with disorderly conduct for resisting officers who took them from the "Ark of Juneau" while enroute to a promised homestead site.

Residents of Tacoma, Wash., where he lived for six months while preparing the boat for the voyage, were coming to his aid. Frank Gillihan, president of the Tacoman junior chamber of commerce, posted his $25 bond to get him out of jail and a hastily organized Tacoma defense committee telegraphed him to "keep a stiff upper lip."

Stako, a 49-year-old unemployed elder from Richmond, Va., said "We'll fight this thing through. They can't prevent a man from seeking an honest living for himself and his family. I appreciate the help from the Tacoma friends who see this for what it really is."

Witness Says Reds Get Military Secrets

Up and Down THE STREET

Possibly no one in Mansfield regrets Germany's occupation of Norway more than Katherine Hartman, proprietor of the Park Avenue Book shop. Last summer, accompanied by her sister, Martha, she visited the land of the Midnight Sun and spent much of her time around Trondheim, where fighting is now raging. During her stay, she says she acquired a deep respect for that beautiful country and its thrifty, peave-loving inhabitants. That these people are being routed from their homes and are having their lands turned into a battle field is doubly tragic to her.

Not only Mansfield stamp collectors but those interested in music will want to save the new postage stamps to be issued next month by the postal department in the present series of stamps now being printed in commemorating famous Americans. The next series of stamps will honor famous composers, according to Herman E. Homberger, postmaster. First of these is a Stephen Collins Foster stamp to go on sale May 4. Others in the series include John Philip Sousa, Victor Herbert, Edward A. MacDowell and Ethelbert Nevin.

Four days of sunshine were too much for Probate Judge C. J. Anderson, who likes to fish better than anything else, so he got out his tackle and went on his first angling expedition of the year today. He didn't say where he was going. Mrs. Anderson, also an expert angler, went with him.

Miss Marianne Genet, who will be remembered by many of her Mansfield friends, is the recipient of a number of honors this week in Washington, D. C. Miss Genet, who was organist at Grace Episcopal and St. Luke's Lutheran churches in Mansfield a number of years ago, has won distinction as a composer. She shared honors with other celebrities at the Celebrity breakfast of the national convention of the League of American Pen Women in Washington, at which time two of her compositions were played; she will be a guest at the Polish Benefit at the Shoreham Hotel this week when several of her works will be featured, and she is also slated to appear on the programs of the Congressional club and the Women's City club of the national capital.

PROGRAM SET

Marine Corps League of Ohio Holds 2-Day Meeting Here.

Plans have been completed for the state convention of the Marine Corps League of Ohio, to be held in Mansfield Saturday and Sunday. Approximately 250 are expected to attend.

J. M. Buchanan, who will serve as chief of staff for the occasion, said today that registration will open at 1 p. m. Saturday at Memorial building. There will be roll call and introduction of guests at a brief meeting at 7 p. m. and at 7:30 the "Leatherneck" luncheon will be served. Delegates will assemble at 8:30 and taps will sound at 10:30 p. m.

Sunday's business session opens at 9 a. m. and a dinner will be served at 1 p. m. Annual election of officers will be held immediately after the dinner.

Committee heads who will assist Buchanan with convention plans are William Warner, commandant; Eugene Walter, registration; John A. Walery and Harold Osborne, dinner; John Van Cura, sergeant at arms; and Evan A. Evans and Earl T. Randolph, color bearers.

RULING GIVEN

Osteopaths Can Be Candidates For Coroner's Job.

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Osteopaths legally may seek the office of county coroner under a recent law decreeing that such candidates be "licensed physicians," the state supreme court held yesterday.

The high court said that until the term "licensed physicians" was more clearly defined, osteopaths were eligible and ordered the Darke county election board to accept nominating petitions of Clarence D. Kester as a May primary candidate.

CHOSEN FOR RED CROSS MEETING

Two High School Girls to Go to Washington for National Convention in May.

Two Mansfield school girls were chosen yesterday to represent Richland County Junior Red Cross at the national convention in Washington early next month.

Patty Bancroft, a junior at Senior high, and Mary Roadpouch, in the 7th grade at John Simpson junior high, were selected by sponsors of the Junior organization and principals of the two schools.

Junior girls are chosen on the basis of outstanding work in Junior Red Cross during the year. This is the second year that Mansfield high schools have raised the funds to send their own delegates to the convention. They collected old papers and magazines last week and tonight are having a benefit card party at the American Legion home.

The two girls will be accompanied by Miss Elsie McFadden, a junior sponsor at Hedges school and a member of the Junior Red Cross board.

At least 12 people from the Richland County Red Cross are planning to attend the convention which will be held in Washington May 6-7-8.

Six adults from Mansfield who will attend are John H. Finefrock, L. W. Birch, Roll Call chairman; Gertrude B. English, executive secretary; Miss McFadden, and Mrs. Finefrock and Mrs. Birch. The Shelby branch will be represented by Mrs. L. N. Hoffman, branch chairman; Mrs. C. C. Fish, vice chairman in charge of war relief work in Shelby; Miss Gladys Baker, branch secretary; and Mrs. Lewis Patterson, Junior Red Cross chairman of the branch.

MOTHER DIES

Mrs. Olney of Edison, Was Mother of Actor Kruger's Wife.

MT. GILEAD—Mrs. Mary Jane Olney, 70, mother of Mrs. Otto Kruger of Hollywood, died at her home in nearby Edison of a cerebral hemorrhage early this morning. Mrs. Kruger is the wife of the widely known character actor of motion pictures.

Mrs. Olney is survived by her husband, Oliver J. Olney, and another daughter, Mrs. John McMananny, of Walled Lake, Mich. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday in Edison, and the body will be taken to Detroit for burial.

GUARD FIRED

London Prison Farm Employe Ousted for Profanity.

COLUMBUS—(U.P.)—The state civil service commission affirmed without comment today the dismissal of W. G. Copley, London prison farm guard, who was removed on charges of profanity and insubordination last June.

He reportedly had used profanity in connection with the name of Governor Bricker.

PRE-SCHOOL CLINICS TO OPEN IN RICHLAND COUNTY NEXT WEEK

The annual pre-school clinics, conducted by the public health department among children who will be entering school for the first time next fall, will open May 3 at Shiloh and Plymouth, and will continue for 10 days throughout the county.

Dr. Roy C. Rehder, city-county health commissioner said examination of pre-school children will begin a week from tomorrow at Shiloh school, and children in the Plymouth school district will be examined in the afternoon.

The clinics are conducted by the health department to detect defects in child health. Dr. Rehder said recommendations for corrections of the defects will be given their parents.

Morning clinics will be held from 9 to 11 a. m. with the afternoon sessions scheduled from 1 to 3 p. m.

The schedule for the remainder of the pre-school clinics which will be in charge of Dr. Walter L. Merz, assistant health commissioner, assisted by two nurses in other parts of the county is:

May 7—East Mansfield, morning; Lucas, afternoon.
May 8—Olivesburg, morning; Shelby Settlement, afternoon.
May 9—Lexington, morning.
May 10—Butler, morning; Bellville, afternoon.
May 13—Pleasant Valley, morning; Pavonia, afternoon.
May 14—Ontario, morning; Woodville, afternoon.

STILL AHEAD

Sales Tax Receipts Drop Off But Show Increase Over '39.

While sales tax receipts in Richland county for the second week of April dropped off slightly from the preceding week, they were 44 per cent above the corresponding week last April, State Treasurer Don H. Ebright reported today.

County collections for the week amounted to $9,527 as against $6,613 last year. Ebright pointed out, however, that the comparison is not an accurate one since vendors were permitting their stocks to decrease at this time last year before starting to use the new style stamps.

Tax receipts for the entire state reached a new high for the year during the week ending April 13, totaling $865,352.

Richland county sales tax collections to the middle of April were up 21 per cent over last year, while the state-wide gain was 14.5 per cent.

KILLED IN FEUD

Cattleman Fatally Shot In Range Rights Dispute.

KINGMAN, Ariz.—(INS)—An argument over range rights, recalling the early days of the west when cattlemen's feuds were common, left one cattleman dead today and another in jail facing first degree murder charges.

Claiming he shot in self defense, Charles Eaton, 22, son of a prominent Chloride, Ariz., ranching family, was held in jail, while Roy Gardner, 43, another Chloride rancher, was dead.

DIES INFORMED COMMUNISTS IN PLANE PLANTS

General Strike Planned If U. S. Enters War With Russia Ex-Leader Asserts.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON—Military secrets from California's vital airplane plants are being transmitted to both Russia and Germany by Communist "colonies" in the aviation industry, the Dies committee was told today.

Ezra Chase, former Communist leader in Los Angeles, also declared the party is planning to call a general strike throughout the nation as the first step in fomenting civil war and revolution.

Chase declared the Communists are concentrating on filtering members into the airplane plants. He said there are 42 party members in Douglas Aircraft company alone.

"They are transmitting secrets to Russia—and to any country with which she has an alliance," he said. "Thus two foreign countries working together like Russia and Germany have on hand one of the greatest espionage systems in history."

Similarly, they hold a strong position in the Pacific Coast's maritime and rubber industries, Chase asserted. He declared the Communists control the maritime federation through a "colony" of 388 members who hold key positions in the union, and that "colonization" tactics have been used in the Los Angeles plant of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company.

The witness declared the secrets of plane construction are sent up through local committees to party leaders and transmitted to Moscow.

"Their purpose is, if the United States should be so bold as to go to war against Russia, not only to paralyze this country, but to sabotage it in every way possible," he told the committee.

Chase said the party is driving "to make the unemployed more militant." He declared he was arrested in Los Angeles for theft after he organized a group to turn on gas and electric utilities in homes where they had been cut off for non-payment of bills.

"The Communist party is an organization with a revolutionary intent," Chase said. "They are seeking to organize and control what they call basic industries. Then they plan to call a general strike throughout the nation. From this it would be an easy step to civil war and revolution."

ORGANIZE GIRLS

Eastern Stars Plan to Form Rainbow Assembly Here.

A movement to organize a Rainbow Assembly, girls' group, similar in purpose to the DeMolay for boys, is under way in Mansfield, according to an announcement today by Miss Pearl Wierman, Worthy Matron of Ruth chapter, Order of Eastern Star.

A meeting of the advisory board of the chapter will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the Masonic temple. Walter Greve, state field representative in charge of Rainbow Assemblies, will attend.

The Assembly is for girls between the ages of 13 and 18 years. There must be 25 girls enrolled before the Assembly can be organized. Miss Wierman said she hoped to have 100 girls for the charter.

Immediately after the meeting Saturday there will be a pep rally for the girls who are interested in such an organization. Members must either be daughters of Eastern Star members, or be recommended by some member of a Masonic body.

REPORT DRAWN

New Evidence of Immorality At Delaware School Uncovered.

COLUMBUS—(INS)—Reports on the investigation into charges of alleged immorality and other irregularities among 480 inmates of the girls' industrial school at Delaware will be submitted to State Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood in a few days, it was announced today.

Result of the inquiry, conducted by agents of the department, was to have been made known today, but was held up because new evidence had turned up, a spokesman for the department said.

PLEAD GUILTY

FREMONT (AP)—Two Toledo brothers who pleaded guilty to larceny of large amounts of copper wire in conjunction with a theft ring took different paths today. Harold and Willis Bailey were sentenced to reformatory terms of one to seven years, but Willis was placed on probation.

The Voice of BROADWAY

—By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

Chocolate Broadway.

Harlem is the place where the restless citizens of Broadway go after curfew has rung in the gay places and there's nothing left but Reuben's for scrambled eggs and the morning papers. The swing fans, the ennui-escapers, the dancing insomniacs and the debs who don't want to go home, hail cabs at 2 or 3 a. m. and ride up to Lenox avenue where dark bands blow hot tunes into the night, and pianos play those sleepy careless solos, and dark girls sing torch songs until morning in little cellar places.

Night life in Harlem isn't what it was when the Cotton club was uptown and the streets were bright with night club signs and every tourist who hit Manhattan made the midnight pilgrimage to darktown. The tourists haven't been around in years.

But every night a few stay-ups and stragglers and jive addicts from downtown come up to sit around and drink and eat fried chicken and listen to the blues.

* * *

There are no more big night clubs with floor shows in Harlem. There are dance halls like the Savoy and the Golden Gate—straight hot-band Lindy-hop dancing places.

And there are the drinking places, little hole-in-the-wall spots that begin to get hot around 2:30 a. m. and stay open as long as the trade wants them to and the police will permit. These are just rooms with a piano in the corner, and sometimes a guitar player and a saxophonist. They hold 50 or 60 customers and are seldom filled.

Currently the three top places, most popular with the visitors from Broadway and Park avenue, are Morocco, Mercedes' place, officially known as the Gee-Haw Riding School, and the Uptown House. They are patronized by such Times Square figures as Albert Johnson, Bruce Cabot, showgirl Kay Fears, Brenda Frazier, Eddy Duchin, Charlie Barnet and Jimmy Dorsey, and scores of jazz musicians who come up and sit around after the doors on 52nd street are locked.

* * *

Morocco, which used to be the favorite spot, has slipped a little in favor of Mercedes' place. Mercedes is a slim, pretty girl who plays the piano and sings torch songs.

That's all that happens in the little cellar room from 2 a. m. until closing time, except that when Mercedes isn't singing, a dusky boy named Toy slides into her chair and caresses the keyboard.

Uptown House is larger, and has its big band staying on later than any other place, so it gets the customers who want to dance. Morocco's entertainer is a dwarf named Jazzbo who sings badly, but somehow sounds the way singing ought to sound just before dawn.

* * *

The citizens of Harlem feel that night-time gaiety there has slipped in the past few years chiefly because the whites took up swing and the jitterbugs aped the Negro dancing so thoroughly that now there's nothing in Harlem that you can't see downtown.

The antics at the Savoy used to amaze sightseers. Now you can watch the same kind of dancing any place Glenn Miller, or Benny Goodman plays.

Benny Goodman and Gene Krupa used to be up at the Savoy all the time in the old days when Chick Webb, the drummer genius, was beating his tom toms there. Songwriters went there to catch something that somehow couldn't be found on Broadway.

Plenty of hits were born near the bandstands at the Savoy. Hoagy Carmichael wrote "Stardust" in the dancehall, Gene Krupa composed his "Bolero" there; and one night, in five minutes, Chick Webb dictated a tune to Ella Fitzgerald—"Stoppin' at the Savoy."

* * *

The special jargon of Harlem has been exaggerated by professional "alligators," but it does exist. A night club is a "juice joint." A movie house is an "image gimmick."

Lucius Beebe is referred to by dusky Beau Brummels as the "ace drape." A "sweet" bandleader is known as a "sugar shover." A ballroom is a "track." When a Harlemite says "Let's have some skin" he wants to shake hands.

There are 30,000 social clubs in Harlem, and almost everyone there belongs to several. Churchgoing is popular. The conga isn't. Almost every man, woman and child in Harlem bets on the numbers. Cigaret peddlers break the packages and sell cigarets at a cent apiece. Rent parties never go out of style, and spare ribs are Harlem caviar.

* * *

Sugar Hill is still the Park avenue of Harlem, but the Sugar Hill aristocrats have nowhere the high social rating of star bandleaders like Count Basie and Duke Ellington and Louis Armstrong. Jimmy Lunceford, Ethel Waters, Andy Kirk, Fletcher Henderson, Joe Louis, Bill Robinson, oddly enough, doesn't enjoy as much prestige in Harlem as he does downtown.

It is paradoxical that the current "hottest" band for the Harlemites' money is Charlie Barnet's, a white outfit. All the nickel machines feature his records, and there are nickel machines in almost every bar, night club and tavern in Harlem.

At Mercedes' place, they've twice had to replace Jimmy Dorsey's record of Johnny Green's "Body and Soul" because the Harlem folk—who come early, and stay only until around 2, when the downtown influx begins—wore it out playing it over and over.

* * *

The early morning traffic is terrific, with the workers going downtown for the day. From dawn to dusk the Harlemites toil as cooks, porters, elevator boys and parlor maids.

But from dusk to dawn, they dance.

Hollywood Speaks—

—By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—When you start an argument about the relative importance of the various factors in a movie hit you might as well try settling that old one about the chicken and the egg.

The U. S. supreme court, in th famous "Letty Lynton" suit, recently opined that "...the talent and popularity of the motion picture stars generally constitute the main drawing power of the picture, and this is especially true where the title of the picture is not identified by any well known play or novel."

A lower court had awarded authors Edward Sheldon and Margaret Ayer Barnes 20 per cent of the profits from the Gable-Crawford film, "Letty Lynton," on their contention that Metro had swiped their play "Dishonored Lady" for the movie without so much as by-your-leave. Writers Sheldon and Barnes appealed the judgment and demanded the full half-million-odd dollars profit from the picture—which the supreme court decision refused to grant.

The decision commented on other profit factors entering into film production—"artistic conceptions . . . expert supervision and direction of the various processes."

* * *

This is all true (who am I to argue with the supreme court?) and yet one of the major truths of picture business is that no star can survive a series of bad stories.

If the star is all-important, then Robert Taylor and Hedy Lamarr in "Lady of the Tropics" should have been a world-beating attraction. By the same token, Lamarr and Spencer Tracy in "I Take This Woman" should have lined the fans four-deep at the box-office. Gable and Loy in "Parnell" should have exhausted the ticket-takers—instead of the scanty audiences it did attract. Claudette Colbert as "Zaza" should have done as well as Claudette Colbert (with Gable) in "It Happened One Night." A star without a good vehicle is soon hitch-hiking on the career road.

* * *

On the other hand, a good story without benefit of stars often can make the grade. It isn't easy, and it takes time, but it can be done. "The Grapes of Wrath," no case in point, had the benefit of the novel's popularity. "Gone With the Wind" had this, plus Gable's established star draw. But "A Man to Remember" had nothing—except a good story, exceptional performances, good direction.

ALL SENIOR HIGH CLASSES UNITE FOR ASSEMBLY

School Talent Combined For Presentation of Program in Auditorium.

Forgetting their studies for one period yesterday afternoon, pupils from all classes at Senior high school joined to stage an all-student assembly program in the auditorium.

Written by Robert Frey, the assembly was presented by home room 105, taught by Mrs. Avice Reed, with Robert Guegold acting as master of ceremonies.

The program included songs by a vocal quartet composed of Paul and Gordon Trophs, Todd Strohminger and David Fisher; accordion solo by Helen Sampsel; tap dance by Anita King; vocal solo, 'Auf Wiedersehen" by Betty Austin; "Mah Lindy Lou" played by the Hyden trio made up of Joseph Pival, violin, Frank Pival, cello, and Anne Jeanette Klinger, piano.

A vocal solo "A Lover's Dream" by Harlett Johnston; violin solo, "Rondino" by Joseph Pival; comedy sketch and vocal solo, "Ma" by Eugene Gump and vocal solo by Donald McLaughlin. Music for the entertainment was presented by George Terry and his orchestra.

PATROL BOYS FETED

A dinner for the 32 members of the schoolboy patrol at John Simpson junior high school was held last night in the school cafeteria in appreciation of the work done by the boys. Following the dinner the group attended a show at the Madison theater.

The dinner was planned by Frend Boals, patrol supervisor, and Hobart Lime, the patrol faculty advisor.

TREE SHAVE

Forests Get Neck Trim, Too, for About Fourteen Cents.

WENATCHEE, Wash.—(AP)—A shave and a haircut for some of the yellow pine in the Wenatchee with a diameter of from six to eight inches and a height of 30 to 35 feet.

The timber trimmed in this manner eventually makes lumber free of knots, Forest Supervisor Walter H. Lund explained. On each of 580 acres near Lake National forest costs about 14½ cents.

CCC crews work there pruning lower branches off the trees, up to a height of 18 feet. Trees picked are the smaller ones, Wenatchee some 40 trees were picked out for such special pruning and for six feet around each tree brush was also cut away.

The CCC workers average about half an acre a man a day.

To obtain large blooms on hydrangeas, prune them each spring. Remove weak, straggly branches and cut back sturdy ones, leaving about 3 sets of buds on each branch.

FOREST FIRES MENACE IDAHO

Emergency Precaution Urged Immediately In Northern Section of State.

LEWISTON, Idaho—(INS)—The stage is set for the "worst forest fire conflagration in modern times" unless emergency precautions are taken at once in the forests of Northern Idaho, according to state forestry authorities.

Thousands of acres of timber were levelled when a violent windstorm struck the Clearwater region of the northern part of the state.

"Extent of damage is not known," said State Forester Franklin Girard, 'but we have determined that at least 5,400 acres of timber were blown down.

"River towns would be wiped out, hundreds of people would be in peril of their lives and thousands of acres of standing virgin timber as well as the blown-down areas would be destroyed."

Pleas for aid were sent Idaho's congressional members and national forestry officials for prompt action.

BRITISH LEARN YANKEE GAMES

LONDON — (INS) — Canadian troops are introducing American games to the British.

Softball matches have attracted wide attention, and units of the Royal Air Force are already trying the game. Commenting on the popularity of the new sport, the Evening Standard stated:

"It has the advantage over cricket that it can be played without a prepared pitch and the equipment is very cheap."

MORONS FOUND GAINING.

PHILADELPHIA —(U.P.)— The United States is going to the morons, according to fears expressed by Albert Edward Wiggam, psychologist. "Unless some changes take place, the moron will inherit the country through failure of superior people to have children," Wiggam told the New Century club. "Half of America—the educated half—is dying out."

NEW WAY TO A MAN'S HEART
